BIG EUROPEAN ORDER FOR AM. WOOLEN CO.

The Sun has been informed on what seems to be good authority that the Boston office of the American Woolen company has received an order for woolen fabrics from Europe of sufficient size to keep all the plants of this company running steadily for the next two years.

It is not stated from what particular source the order comes, but we are informed that already negotiation for financing the project are being carried on through the leading banks of Montreal. If the company receives this large contract Lowell will share in the prosperity that it will bring to the various mills of the concern in this vicinity.

An official of the company queried by telephone from The Sun office today stated that he had not heard of any such order being received although, he said, it might be in the hands of the head officials in Boston. The nature of the order may cause the company to preserve secrecy in regard to the European parties who are behind it.

OUTPOST FORTS OF PARIS IN HANDS OF GERMANS

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The outpost forts of Paris are now in the hands of the Germans, according to the German official report issued today.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Gisors, a French town, estimates the total losses of the allies at 41,000 and the losses of the Germans at 200,000. He says a moderate estimate of the German losses places them at 20 per cent at least.

Sheer weight of numbers has pushed the Germans forward at the amazing rate of 25 miles a day, the correspondent adds. The Germans have shown no superiority in artillery or transport. The rapidity of their advance has been due largely to their use of the automobile for transportation.

The British commissariat has perfected the following menu for each man on the firing line:

Daily, a pound of bread with cheese and jam, a pound and a quarter of bacon, a pound and a quarter of beef with tea and rum; two ounces of tobacco weekly.

BULK OF ALLIED FORCES DIVIDED BETWEEN PARIS AND COMPIEGNE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The official communication issued today mentions two armies with new designations, the army of Paris and the army of the northwest, which leads to the supposition that the bulk of the allied forces is divided between positions in the region of Paris and Compiègne, the front having the region of Verdun for its centre while only covering troops are left in Alsace.

STRONG CONTINGENT OF GERMAN TROOPS RUSHED TO GALICIA

ROME, Sept. 4, via Paris, Sept. 5, 3 a. m.—News coming through the Austrian frontier says that a strong contingent of German troops has been despatched hurriedly to Galicia to help the Austrians against the Russians.

BRITISH SHIPS COALED

Also Received Provisions From N. Y. — Wireless Messages Bear Out Ambassador's Charges

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Intercepted wireless messages, copied at the various stations in the vicinity of New York at which the United States government has placed censors would seem to explain the peculiar appearance of British cruisers off the entrance of New York harbor.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has repeatedly expressed a conviction that the British men-of-war were being both provisioned and coaled from New York.

Maritime men have been totally unable to explain why first one and then several cruisers, known to be off the coast, would come within the three-mile limit, remain a while and then hurry off to sea again. How these cruisers managed to obtain provisions also has been the source of much speculation.

One of the wireless messages which has helped clarify the mystery was addressed to H. B. Hunt at 125 West Seventy-third street, New York. The message was picked up Sept. 1, at a station near New York which is known as the "Marconi" station at Staten Island. In this message Mr. Hunt was directed to bring a quantity of provisions and some newspapers to a point two miles south of Ambrose lightship at 11 o'clock the following morning. Among the provisions asked for was fresh beef.

Calls Up Suffolk
The following day, Sept. 2, the White Star liner Olympic passed under the harbor light, sent by wireless the call letters of the Suffolk, and received an acknowledgment. A transmittal a dispatch signed "Hunt." In this, "Hunt" informed the commander of the British cruiser that he had been at a point two miles south of the lightship at 11 o'clock that morning, but as the Suffolk failed to put in an appearance, he waited all afternoon. Whether any provisions were actually delivered could not be determined.

To a representative of the Associated Press H. B. Hunt, at the address in West Seventy-third street, flatly denied that he had received a wireless message from the Suffolk. Later when informed of the contents of the message, and that it was known that he had signed for it, Mr. Hunt admitted that he had received it.

"But I did not take the provisions sent to the cruiser," he reported. "I am not an American citizen. I have done much work for the British admiralty, and for a number of years past I have always furnished provisions to British warships when they were in American waters."

Mr. Hunt denied that he had sent the telegram represented by the Olympic. The possibility of using New York harbor or any of the many small harbors of Long Island and New Jersey for the shipment of coal or ammunition, in addition to provisions, was mentioned to Mr. Hunt. He said he had no intention of having anything to do with ammunition or coal.

Count von Bernstorff said that he had made an official complaint to Secy.

DON'T FIND FAULT WITH THE COOK

Your stomach may be to blame. There are many causes of indigestion besides poor cooking. One of them is weakness of the stomach. When this is the cause, the stomach should be helped to perform its duty, not relieved of it, and more and more people are finding that dys-pepsia is pleasant to take and render just the right service. Buy a box of your druggist's for a quarter. Try them for your stomach, wind in the stomach, heartburn or nausea.

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING NEWS

Activity in the building line is dropping down gradually and it is believed by many of the wise ones that the prevailing conditions will not change until next spring. There is but very little new work going on, but a large number of craftsmen are busy on old jobs. The real builder today is Eugene Demers, who recently returned from France, where it is said he made quite a little lump of cash. Mr. Demers is erecting six double houses in Stevens and Middlesex streets, and it is stated he will start the construction of a dozen more in a short time or as soon as the six now under way are finished. Mr. Demers recently purchased a large tract of land from the Field estate in Middlesex street and it is upon this land that the new buildings are being erected.

Work on the Coulson property in Gorham street is progressing rapidly. A large gang of men are busy on the job and it is expected that a short time before Henry Carr opens his new pool parlors. This building will cost about $15,000.

The new dwelling house of Dr. G. Omer Lavallee in the rear of his home, 70 Merrimack street, will be ready for the father in a few days. This building, which is of wood, will contain three tenements of six rooms each with pantry and bath.

Mr. Henry L. Carmody is erecting a $5500 property in Pine street. The house will contain four tenements of six rooms each.

The foundation for the new brick building in Hanover street is completed and the brick work will be started at once. The building is being constructed by A. B. Stavropoulos and will contain a couple of stories with a hall on the second floor. It will cost $4,000.

Esrael Greenberg's employees are kept busy. Mr. Greenberg is not building new houses but he is making numerous changes in his many dwelling houses. At 31 Lane street he is changing a two-family house into a three-tenement. To his building, numbered 62 to 64 Market street he is adding two extra tenements.

D. M. Kazanjian is erecting a six-tenement house in 14th street. Each tenement will consist of four rooms with pantry and bath.

James S. Turner is changing a cottage into a two-tenement house at 85 Stevens street. The Ellen Hennessy estate is adding another tenement to its property, numbered 45 and the same is being done to the other dwelling house in the rear.

Work has been started on the large dwelling house of Isaac Bernstein at the corner of Willie avenue and Salem street. The building will contain seven tenements, five of five rooms each and two of four rooms, as well as two full baths. The approximate cost of the building will be $7,000.

The United States Cartridge Co. will start next week the construction of an addition to its boiler plant in Lawrence street. This will consist of a wooden building 13 feet and 6 inches by 12 feet and 2 inches and will cost about $1,100.

Club Houses
The year 1914 will go down in the history of this city as club year for up to the present time three new club buildings have been added to the building directory of Lowell. The Centralville Social club in West Sixth street completed a few weeks ago at a cost of about $6,000 and two more are being erected. The Polish National Home association is constructing a two-story wood and cement building in Auburn street at a cost of $6,000, while the Deutsch Hall German club is completing its new quarters, which consists of a two-story concrete and wood building in Plain street, the cost of which will be $6,000.

Dwelling Houses
Walter S. Coburn is erecting a home consisting of seven rooms with reception hall, pantry and bath in Fairmount street. Billzer Roux is constructing a double house in Methuen street. Avila Sawyer is finishing a double house in White street. Ida P. Farrington is having a seven-room cottage erected in Warwick street. Clara A. Jones is building a seven-room cottage in Rose avenue. Benjamin Stavelly will soon occupy his new home of seven rooms in Stavelley street. George A. Coburn is having an eight-room house constructed in Stevens street. Bertha M. Clark is building a bungalow of four rooms in Gorham street. Michael Schamus has nearly finished his seven-room cottage in Bishop street. William England is having a cottage built in Upham street. This will contain seven rooms with pantry and bath and all other modern conveniences. D. J. Ring, the piano man, is building a home of five rooms with bath and reception hall at Tristram park at a cost of $5,000. Mary B. Daggett will have her own penters start on the erection of a seven-room house in Tenth street next week. Fred J. Gnyette is constructing

WAR NEWS

GERMANS MAY FORCE ALLIES TO GIVE BATTLE AT "GATES" OF PARIS.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—That the Germans will not halt at Paris unless the allied armies give them battle in front of the city was considered certain here yesterday. The city is very nervous. There are no high government officials left.

Officials still here have no actual knowledge of conditions at the front. But that the Germans really are within striking distance of the outer ring of forts is indicated by the activity of Gen. Gallieni. He has been rushing his troops to the points of contact all through the night and it is asserted that every possible avenue has been occupied.

Meanwhile the exodus from the city continues, but with the railway line to the north and west blocked, most of the travel of necessity is toward the south. There is no doubt that the vicinity of Paris will be a real battleground within the next few days. The main German army is expected to attempt to force the allies to give battle almost at the gates of the city. If they do not succeed, then the Germans will undoubtedly press on against the French-English column, which is concentrating their attack on Paris at one particular point.

It is now realized that Germany never contemplated the complete investment of Paris. Their operations, if they reach the city, will be a repetition of those at Namur. The first of their enormous batteries of siege artillery, the greatest guns of modern time, will be concentrated on one fortified position at a time. What the outcome will be no one can foresee.

The French losses in the three days' battle which culminated in the taking of Amiens were enormous. This is admitted to have been due to the inability of the French officers at times to control their men, who insisted on charging the German artillery positions. Thousands of Frenchmen were mowed down in these mistaken exhibitions of courage.

The French lines held against the German attack when the plans of the staff were followed and the forces remained on the defensive. There was at all times a natural retirement. The French air scouts reported that the enemy far outnumbered the defenders in accordance with the arranged plans, the French moved slowly backward, making a wide detour to draw the main German army well away from the city.

After Amiens the next stand was at Picquigny, eight miles further south. Here the French had destroyed great sections of the highway, the tunnels and all bridges, but this hardly checked the Germans, whose transport is wonderful. They replaced all destroyed bridges with temporary structures almost immediately.

KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE DIRECTED GERMANS WHO WERE CHECKED AT VERDUN

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The German invaders have been checked at Verdun, 140 miles east of Paris, according to an official dispatch. This repulse is regarded of great strategic importance, as the position of the Germans now within a few miles of Paris is as serious as long as the French centre and right wing hold firm.

Exhausted by their headlong attacks on the French and British and by their forced marches of the last two weeks, the German columns now near the outskirts of the city of Paris paused yesterday. They made no effort to break the allies. Instead, they began the arrangement of their forces on new strategic positions, in preparation for a renewal of the assault.

The allies took advantage of this delay in bringing up fresh troops from the rear and place their forces at the stations assigned them for the defense of Paris. The allies will renew the battle with their supplies of ammunition and food immediately at hand, while the Germans must depend on constantly threatened lines of communication nearly 200 miles long.

Dispatches from Berlin describe the fighting between Verdun and Rheims as the greatest battle in history, with 500,000 men engaged. If this estimate is correct, it shows that the French had concentrated huge forces to hold their centre against the Germans, regardless of the near approach of the invaders of Paris.

Dispatches from Berlin report that the Crown Prince and Emperor William were present in the German lines at the attack of Verdun and to confirm the growing impression here that the rapid advance on Paris is a secondary feature of the war and that the real struggle of decisive character is going on in the center armies. It is in this region that France has the added strength of her great fortifications.

The French official communications continue to show an utter absence of pessimism, and they are generally regarded as indicating that the situation is correct. It is far from being as bad as might have been conjectured by superficial observers, judging from the stereotyped announcement of retreats. Some correspondents go so far as to suggest that the invaders of France off have been fought to a standstill.

LATE WAR BULLETINS

ALLIES CHEERED BY VERDUN VICTORY

LONDON, Sept. 5.—With the German cavalry hovering within sight of the outermost forts of Paris, London was cheered yesterday by reports of desperate fighting by the allies, which has, for the moment at least, turned the tide of battle against the invaders.

Between Verdun and Rheims, where the Germans have massed 750,000 men to break the centre of the great defending line about Paris, the allies have been able since Wednesday to check the most formidable charges ever witnessed on French soil.

The unexpectedly stiff defence has apparently brought about a change in the plans of the German army from the north, which has been sweeping so swiftly southward against Paris.

TERMONDE, 16 MILES FROM GHENT, DESTROYED

LONDON, Sept. 5 (8.10 a. m.)—A despatch to the Central News from Amsterdam reports that Termonde, 16 miles east by south of Ghent, has been hastily destroyed and that railway communication is interrupted.

DESPATCH FROM ANTWERP REPORTS FIGHTING

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Antwerp, timed Friday afternoon says: "There has been fighting since morning at — (name deleted) where the Germans apparently are threatening our communications."

Pres. Wilson Urges Legislation to Raise $100,000,000 to Meet Deficit Threatened by War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—President Wilson personally addressed congress in joint session today urging legislation to raise $100,000,000 a year annual revenue through internal taxes to meet a treasury deficit threatened by the conflict in Europe.

The president told congress that he discharged a duty which he wished with all his heart he might have been spared but which he performed without hesitation or apology because of the danger in present circumstances to create a moment's doubt as to the strength and sufficiency of the treasury of the United States.

While the treasury, he said, could get along for a long period, he pointed out the peril of the government's withdrawing from the national bank approximately $75,000,000 of the treasury balance deposited there; advised against the government borrowing money or selling bonds which would make a "most untimely and unjustifiable demand upon the money market" and appealed to the intelligent and profoundly patriotic public to bear the burden of a special tax to meet the unforeseen emergency.

Congress listened attentively to the address. Immediately upon its conclusion the legislative machinery was set in motion to carry its recommendations into effect.

Chairman Underwood called a meeting of the ways and means committee to perfect an internal revenue measure tentatively drafted in preliminary conferences. A bill will be introduced as soon as possible.

MAN AND WIFE SHOT

MR. AND MRS. RANDOLPH WOUNDED DURING QUARREL AT WEST MEDFORD

WEST MEDFORD, Sept. 5.—Hermina E. Randolph, aged 26, colored, living at 83 Canal street, West Medford, was shot in the left side of the head above the temple, and his wife, Mrs. Elsie L. Randolph, aged 26, a white woman, was shot through the fleshy part of the back of her neck about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Susan E. Ellis, aged 48, colored, of 81 Canal street.

The shooting was done with a 32 caliber revolver. In the tenement of the Ellis woman. It is claimed by the police and eyewitnesses to have been caused by a quarrel between the women. Mrs. Randolph is alleged to have twisted Mrs. Ellis because her husband left her some time ago.

Mrs. Ellis was arrested by Patrolman P. Frank Ward, who arrived on the scene about the same time that Officers John Manning, George Lenox and Wm. Cowing came in the police auto from headquarters in response to a telephone call, after the shooting occurred. She is being held on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and admits that she did the shooting. She claims she acted in self-defense.

The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the back of Mrs. Randolph's neck and could not be found, as the firing was done from a window of the Ellis apartment toward the street. Mrs. Randolph is not seriously injured. The bullet in her husband's head will be probed for at the Massachusetts general hospital, where both were taken after being treated by City Physician Richard Drake and Dr. Franklin E. Campbell.

While Randolph is reported as not seriously injured, there is danger that complications may develop. An X-ray photograph was taken of the bullet at the hospital last night.

The Ellis and Randolph families live in adjoining tenements and the two women have been quarreling considerably. It is said, a war of words is reported to have been going on for some time yesterday afternoon before the Ellis woman did the shooting. Mrs. Randolph was outside of the window in the front room of Mrs. Ellis' tenement. She made an attempt, it is claimed, to take hold of Mrs. Ellis, who is particularly crippled from hip trouble. When she reached in through the window Mrs. Ellis pulled a revolver from under her dress and fired at Mrs. Randolph. Her husband, who had started down Canal street to notify the police to quiet the quarrel, heard the shot and turned back to see his wife fall.

He rushed back to the house and through the front door and threw Mrs. Ellis onto the floor. It is claimed, the revolver lay on a chair in the room where the Ellis woman put it after she fired at Mrs. Randolph. During a struggle she reached for the revolver and fired at Randolph at close range. The bullet went through his straw hat and struck him over the left temple, but did not render him insensible.

The shots aroused the neighborhood and somebody notified police headquarters.

Mrs. Ellis was calm when arrested and declared that she had to shoot in self defense.

Mrs. Ellis has two children, a boy of about 13 who lives with her, and a daughter, who is away working at a beach resort. The Randolphs also have two children. He is a porter.

DISCOVERY IN MEXICO CITY LEADS TO MANY ARRESTS—HUMAN HEART PRESERVED IN ALCOHOL

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5.—The military branch of the constitutionalist authorities yesterday discovered a human heart, preserved in alcohol in a glass jar, in a private residence in Mexico City. Several arrests in connection with this discovery were made, but the authorities refuse to divulge the names of those taken into custody. Other arrests are expected shortly.

Blood-stained clothes, which belonged to President Madero and Vice President Pino Suarez, who were killed in Mexico City in February of 1913, also have been found, together with a watch which belonged to the president and a pin which was the property of his brother, Gustavo Madero. These pieces of jewelry will be placed in the National Museum.

Gen. Joaquin Jimenes Castro, one of the federal commanders, was arrested yesterday. The charge against him was not made public.

The search for arms in Mexico City is being prosecuted with vigor.

FUGED OF FORGERY CHARGES

Nobody Appears Against Harry S. Levenson and Maurice Finkelstein in East Boston Court

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—The complaint against Harry S. Levenson of Saratoga street and Maurice Finkelstein of Port street, East Boston, charging them with forging and uttering checks on the Columbia Trust company, was dismissed in the East Boston court by Judge Murley yesterday for want of prosecution.

Levenson was charged with raising a $5 check to $100 and Finkelstein with raising a check for $243.43. Levenson said the checks had been given them by the East Boston Mutual Benefit association of which they had been officers. He claimed that because both resigned the charges were brought on complaint of Treas. Maurice S. Esch, though he had signed the checks, before they were presented for payment.

DEGREE WITHIN 10 DAYS

Further Details of Government's Agreement With New Haven to Be Worked Out by Correspondence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Few details remain to be worked out between officials of the department of justice and representatives of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, after which the "agreed decree" providing for the peaceful settlement of the civil suit against the road will be signed by the parties at issue and filed in the United States court in New York.

Morgan J. O'Brien and Moorfield Storey, counsel for the New Haven directors, who were in conference with Atty. Gen. Gregory, have returned to New York to consult with the directors of the New Haven. What further work remains to be done on the form the decree is to take will be accomplished through correspondence. The decree is expected to be filed within a week or 10 days.

RING PITCHED EXCELLENT BALL AT ROCKINGHAM

Manchester Beaten 8 to 0 at Spalding Park
Yesterday

Visitors Could Not Solve
Local Twirler While
King Was Hit Hard

Fred Lake and his Manchester hopes, who while they are not shining much this year, according to their grandpa are going to be some team next season, descended upon Spalding park yesterday for a battle with the Grays, lately strengthened by a raw recruit in the person of "Pooch" Donovan, not the famous short distance athlete but a much younger person possessed it would appear from his debut, with a wallop.

Considerable interest was taken in Capt. Swann of the Manchester team as a result of the rumor that Tom Fleming, the old Lowell manager, who is scouting for the Federal league, was looking after Swann. The captain with the hot name doesn't know anything about the report.

At the outset Umpire Doherty announced a double-header here tomorrow, first game at 2 o'clock. The crowd was not large.

First Inning

Kelly took Swann's high foul fly. Kelly came inside and took Kane's slow roller, throwing the Manchester center field out at first by a fraction of a stride. Stimpson was waiting for Reed's high fly in left and Lowell went to bat. No runs, no hits, no errors. For Lowell, McLeskey was wild and passed Swayne on four pitched balls. McLeskey hit sharply to Swann and Swayne was forced at second. Mac's speed preventing a double-play. McLeskey stole second on the first ball pitched. Kelly singled between Spires and Torrey. McLeskey going to third. Kelly went to second while Ostragen fielded Stimpson's grounder and made the put-out himself. Mac was held at third. Dee doubled along the first base foul line scoring both Mac and Kelly. Kelly kept up the good work with a single to left and Dee scored. Kelly making second on the throw in. After waiting for three balls Donovan, the boy with the wallop hit to center for two bases and Kelly scored. Kelly hit a grounder in second base and Swann threw him out. Four runs, four hits, no errors. Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Second Inning
McLeskey and Kelly did the business on Ostragen's grounder. The same play was repeated on Reed. Spires dropped a Texas leaguer into short center for Manchester's first hit. Ring uncorked a wild pitch and Spires went to second. Kihullen lifted a fly to Swayne. No runs, one hit, no errors. In Lowell's half, Ring took three healthy swings at the ball and then retired to the bench. Ring stopped Swayne's grounder and threw him out at first. McLeskey went a foul fly to Ostragen and closed the inning. No runs, no hits, no errors. Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Third Inning
In the third, King sent up a fly to short right and "Pooch" was there. Scanton then singled to left. Swann sent a grounder to McLeskey forcing Scanton at second. Ring then struck Kane out. No runs, one hit, no errors. In Lowell's half, Kelly started off the third with a single over short. King knocked down Stimpson's grounder and he threw to Swann, forcing Kelly at second. Dee came through with a single to left and Stimpson went to second. Both advanced on Kelly's infield out. Donovan went out on a grounder to Ostragen. No runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Fourth Inning
Dee picked up Reed's grounder and the runner went out at first. McLeskey and Kelly made simple work of Ostragen's ground ball. Kelly fumbled Torrey's grounder and the read-headed shortstop got a life. It was the first misplay of the game. Donovan didn't want Kelly to stand along in the error column and he allowed Spires' single to get by him. Torrey going to third and Spires to second. Kihullen went out on a grounder to McLeskey. No runs, one hit, one error. In Lowell's half, Kelly showed good judgment and waited for a free ticket. Ring made three more lusty wallops at the air. Swayne walked into a fast one and the result was a two-bagger to right when sent Waack to third. Dee scored while Swann was throwing. McLeskey and Swayne went to third. Kelly then doubled to right driving in Swayne. The third sacker tried to make it a triple and was thrown out. Two runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Fifth Inning
Fahey dug up King's grounder and his peg to Kelly got the Manchester pitcher at the initial station. Scanton poked the ball to right field for his second single. Swann struck out, an unusual performance for Swann. Kane lifted a fly to Swayne in deep center. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Dee made a nice play of Reed's hard grounder getting the runner at first. Ostragen was lucky when Shorty booted his grounder but on the next play the Lowell infield pulled off a fast double when Torrey hit to McLeskey. Ostragen was forced at second and Torrey fled a first. No runs, one hit, one error.

Seventh Inning
Swayne sent up a fly which landed in Spires' gloves. Torrey did not have to move for McLeskey's fly. Fahey sent up the third infield fly of the inning. Another offering to Spires. Three uppers.

Score—Lowell 7, Manchester 0.

Seventh Inning

Spires went down by the strike-out route. Kelly took Kihullen's high fly and Donovan was under King's least to short right. No runs, no errors. Stimpson went to first on four bad heaves by King and Dee sacrificed him along to the next inning. Stimpson went to third on Kelly's infield out and then King Donovan sent the crowd into spasms by connecting his third hit, a single to left on which Stimpson scored. Waack then singled in the same direction and when Scanton allowed the ball to go by him Donovan went to third and Waack to second. Waack King lived up to form and struck out for the third time. One run, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 4, Manchester 0.

Eighth Inning

Ring issued his first pun of the game when he sent four bad ones to Scanton. Fahey threw out Swann on his grounder and made second. Kane could not find Ring's curves and he struck out. Reed followed Kane's example with three more strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors. Swayne opened Lowell's half of the eighth with a scratch single. McLeskey forced Swayne to second with a creeper to Swann. Fahey in turn forced McLeskey with a grounder to Spires. Stimpson drove a savage single to right advancing Fahey a peg. Stimpson was out on the third forced play of the inning when Dee hit to Swann. No runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 4, Manchester 0.

Ninth Inning

Ostragen sent up a fly to Kelly. Torrey beat out an infield hit. Spires foul-flied to Fahey. Kihullen foul-flied to Kelly. Final score: Lowell 4, Manchester 0.

CHASE IN GLENS FALLS, N. Y.

Two Robbers Seize an Auto, Covering the Chauffeur With Revolvers—One Caught

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Two men who had robbed the local Delano & Hudson railroad station yesterday, shooting the telegraph operator in the leg before riding the safe of $25, leaped into an automobile standing near by, pointed revolvers at the chauffeur and ordered him to drive at high speed toward Lake George.

The chauffeur took them instead to police headquarters. Earned, one of the men sent a bullet into the chauffeur's leg. The robbers then fled. One was caught after a long chase by the police. Neither of the men who were shot was wounded seriously.

H., Sept. 5.—Co-operating with the United States department of agriculture the New Hampshire department of agriculture, the Milk Producers' association, the dairyman's association and the agricultural committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, the state grange will hold meetings at Portsmouth, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11 a. m.; Concord, Thursday, Sept. 17, at 11 a. m.; and Whitefield, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 11 a. m., to discuss "What it costs to produce a quart of milk in New Hampshire and the problems surrounding it."

The New England Milk Producers' association, through its secretary, Richard Patton, asked the Boston chamber of commerce to look into the New England milk situation with a view of recommending how present conditions can be bettered. Following the request, a meeting was held in Boston on July 1 where plans were agreed upon by the representatives of the federal department of agriculture, the state agricultural agencies and the chamber of commerce for co-operative survey of the producers' transportation and distribution of milk in New England.

The state grange officials have sent out a circular letter to subordinate grange officers in this connection, in which they are requested to discuss the following questions for 15 minutes:

"What it Costs to Produce a Quart of Milk."

"How Can Milk Be Marketed at a Profit?"

"We want all milk producers to attend one or more of these meetings and bring with them whatever data they may have on the cost of the production of milk." The dealer says: "Each grange should be represented by its master and at least one delegate who is interested in dairying. These meetings are of vital importance to the agricultural interests of the state, as dairying is the largest agricultural industry. The conditions surrounding the production of milk and its marketing have changed materially in the last few years. In order to obtain a better price for milk the producers must thoroughly understand all of these new conditions."

ASQUITH MAKES APPEAL

Premier Spoke With Great Emotion in Guildhall—Urged Britons to Rally to Colors

LONDON, Sept. 4, 1.15 p. m.—In the historic guildhall of London Premier Asquith today started the crusade to stimulate enlistment under the British flag, which he intends to push throughout the country. He is calling upon every able-bodied Briton of military age to come to the help of his country in the hour of need.

The premier opened his address with the heartening announcement that up to today between 250,000 and 300,000 recruits had responded to the call of Lord Kitchener, the secretary of war.

Speaking with great emotion, the premier called attention to the fact that it was just three and one-half years ago that he had spoken in the guildhall on the occasion of the decision of the two English-speaking nations of the world to settle their differences by arbitration without resorting to armaments.

"No one was then sane enough to think, or even hope, that the era of war was at end," the premier continued. "But no one anticipated such a terrible spectacle as confronts us today at a time when we thought we were confident in the security of peace."

"We now find ourselves involved in the struggle of the world, a struggle in which the whole strength of this empire in a bloody arbitrament of might versus right that has been entered into with clear judgment and a clear conscience," the premier declared. "What would have been our place among the nations if we had been base enough or so paralyzed in our sense of honor and duty to be false to our word and faithfulness to our friends? We should have been standing with folded arms and with such countenance as we could command while this small and unprotected slat, Belgium, was defending her vital liberties and making a heroic stand against overwhelming forces."

Continuing, Premier Asquith detailed the heroic efforts of the Belgian forces. He mentioned the surge of ideas and uncounted countless outbursts on the part of what he termed "hungering adventurers." He declared that the greatest crime against civilization was the sacking of Louvain.

"This shameful holocaust," the premier continued, "has been performed by blind barbaric vengeance. Sooner than stand aside we would see this country of ours blotted out from the pages of history."

Continuing, the British prime minister made the declaration that the invasion of Belgium was the first step in a greater policy to crush the freedom and autonomy of the free states of Europe.

He then paid a compliment to the policy of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary.

Reviewing the incidents leading up to the war he declared that one power and one power only was responsible for the war, and that power was Germany.

The premier praised France and Russia as two great powers who did not mean to separate themselves from Great Britain any more than Great Britain meant to separate herself from them.

The premier made the declaration that his object was to impress on the people the imperious urgency of this supreme duty.

Referring to affairs at home, the premier declared that since the order of mobilization had been given between 250,000 and 300,000 recruits have been secured.

As to the progress of the war, the premier declared that in his judgment in whatever direction he looked there was abundant grounds for pride and comfort. "I will not say more," he said, "because I think we should bear in mind that we are at the present time watching the fluctuations of fortune in the early stages of what is going to be a protracted struggle."

The meeting came to an end with speeches by Bonar Law, leader of the Unionist party in the house of commons, and former Premier Balfour.

Mr. Law declared that the key to peace or war had been in Berlin for nearly a generation. The head of the German movement had merely to whisper the word "Peace" and there would have been no war. He did not speak that word but drew the sword and may the accused system for which he stood perish by it.

Mr. Balfour said that Great Britain had entered the war because honor and interests could not be divorced and because of a nation which strives for great power but which was utterly ignorant how to use it.

RECORD PRICE FOR WHEAT
CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Yesterday's record price for wheat, 1.25 1/2, was displaced in the opening trades today when the May option sold at 1.26 1/2, an advance of more than four cents a bushel compared with last night's close. Reports that Holland had received an ultimatum from Germany excited the trade and there were advices that big export orders were being handled in the United States for the direct account of the governments of Great Britain, France and Greece.

It was said that one firm in Minneapolis had sold 100,000 barrels of flour to France. European buying of oats, too, appeared to be limited only by the amount available for immediate shipment at the seaboard.

Profit-taking on the upturn was lively. Reaction ensued amounting in some cases to more than one cent a bushel.

TRAINING COLLEGE FOR MEN TEACHERS

The state board of education is planning a training school for men teachers to be established at Worcester. Up to the present there seems to have been an impression in some quarters that only the women required training for the teaching profession while proof that a man had graduated from some college or university seemed to be accepted as prima facie evidence of his ability to teach. If the state board can overcome this fallacy and expose its baneful effect on the whole public school system, it will render an invaluable service to the cause of education throughout the commonwealth.

The state normal schools are attended only by young women preparing for work in primary and grammar grades while the principals of grammar schools and all the teachers in high schools are required to be college graduates. Hence it appears that with the exception of some female teachers who have taken special courses, very few high school teachers and still fewer principals of grammar schools have had any training for the business.

We have not yet risen fully above the old idea that if a man who has been to college fails in every other line of business, he can take to school teaching. Is it any wonder that so many briefless lawyers, so many unsuccessful doctors, so many men who are unable to earn a living in any other way, are found engrafted on the school system in which their defective work is shielded by politics or approved by people who are not competent to judge. The people who have to pay the teachers, and who do really pay for the best, are thus imposed upon but they have no redress.

In our own city for example, when a vacancy for grammar master occurs the school board does not look for a man who has had any special training to fit him for such a position. All it asks is, whether the candidate is a college graduate and whether morally he is a man fit to be placed in charge of children. There is really no insistence upon his having any special qualification for the position either in reference to his ability to teach or to govern.

What is the result? If he be a man of fact, he sets to work to study methods of teaching, but he learns mainly from the well trained and experienced teachers in charge of the various grades. In time he may become a valuable man; but it is a well known fact that some principals never make much progress and never reach the degree of proficiency necessary to success.

In the classrooms of high schools throughout the state it is easy also to find many misfit teachers, because they have never had any training for the work in which they are engaged. Many of them do not understand the first principles of the art of teaching and as a result they are unable to get down to the level of their classes, to give clear explanations or to invest the subject in hand with that degree of interest which commands the attention and controls the will of the pupils.

It is to remedy this state of affairs and to give Massachusetts the best equipped teachers to be found in the country, that the state board of education through Commissioner Saeedden, has planned to provide a course suitable for the proper training of men for the teaching profession. Without knowing the details of the plan, we presume that it will provide a substitute for a college course, giving special attention to the art of teaching and its kindred branches. Boys who have prepared for college at a high school might enter such a school to fit themselves for the teaching profession just as they might go to a law school or a medical school to enter either of those professions, with this difference however, that at the Normal school while being trained as teachers their general education would be greatly extended.

The state board has already provided special training for mechanical teachers in vocational schools at the Fitchburg Normal school; training in business courses at the Salem Normal; in domestic science and household arts at the Framingham school. By providing a special school which will serve as a training college for men teachers, the board of education will have completed the system of preparing all classes of teachers for their varied lines of work. We know of no other prospective step in educational progress that would be of such great benefit to the public schools of the state as a training college for men such as the state board has proposed.

THE REMOVAL OF PUTNAM

The removal of Supt. Putnam of the street department by the municipal council has caused considerable surprise throughout the city because those who followed the testimony had reached the conclusion that there was no evidence to sustain any charge that would justify the action taken.

In our opinion the commissioner of streets and highways should have absolute authority to hire and fire every one of his subordinates with or without cause so that he could be held strictly accountable for results; but our new charter places the responsibility on the municipal council as a whole and provides that certain officials, such for example, as the superintendent of streets, shall not be removed except for cause and after a public hearing on the charges preferred.

The charges against Supt. Putnam were preferred by Commissioner Morse and none of them seemed to be very serious. But at the hearing the general impression was, that the evidence was very weak and that the defense offered by Mr. Putnam proved that he was not guilty of the charges made and that he should, therefore, be exonerated. This conviction was strengthened by the fact that when the evidence for the government was all in, one of the commissioners offered a motion to dismiss the charges. That motion was defeated. Then came Mr. Putnam's defense, which so far as outsiders could judge simply demolished the main charges and fully vindicated his action so far as any charge of malfeasance or mismanagement was concerned.

Three members of the municipal council, namely, Mayor Murphy, Commissioners Morse and Brown, voted to remove Mr. Putnam and Commissioners Carmichael and Donnelly against his removal. Thus Commissioner Morse who appeared in the role of prosecutor set in judgment upon the case, which, while it may be his right, is not in accordance with strict judicial procedure. It was believed from the beginning that Commissioner Morse, to whom Mr. Putnam was persona non grata, would vote for removal; but it was believed also in view of the lack of damaging evidence against Mr. Putnam, that the other commissioners would vote for his retention and exoneration.

Mayor Murphy said he voted for removal on the first and sixth charges which summarized are: For the good of the service, and because Commissioner Morse has not sufficient confidence in the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam. It is difficult to see how the accused official could defend himself against the personal opinion of any commissioner.

Public sentiment approves the action of Commissioners Carmichael and Donnelly in voting against removal on the ground that the charges so far as they amounted to anything were not proven. The responsibility rests with the three commissioners who voted Mr. Putnam out of office.

along the river bank to Bridge street so as to avoid the First street hill? That is an improvement in which the county commission or the state highway commission should assist. But if neither body sees fit to construct this piece of road it should be done by the city as a necessary public improvement of great importance.

Essex county is constructing a piece of boulevard on the Lawrence end from Glen Forest into the city. Part of this strip is in Methuen; but the greater portion is in Lawrence. Yet the Essex county commission does not hesitate to do the work. Why then does not Middlesex county undertake to finish the boulevard on the Lowell end?

It was announced that Lowell would benefit greatly by having one of her citizens on the county commission. Now that Mr. Barlow is a member, the citizens of Lowell look to him to have something done about constructing this piece of road, which is less than a quarter of a mile in length.

The First street hill is a menace to safety which motorists naturally avoid. The rest of the road is ideal and when the Lawrence end is finished the only bad section from New Hampshire to Newburyport will be in Lowell—between Bridge street and Jewell street.

We appeal to County Commissioner Barlow to have something done about this matter or else tell the reason why.

Is there any county ring in this? If so it is time the people, hereabouts were apprised of the fact.

ELECTION OF POPE

Cardinals O'Connell and Gibbons have good reason to feel disappointed that they could not get to Rome in time to take part in the conclave, but it is not assumed that their participation would have changed the result. It is quite remarkable that the cardinal who was elected pope had never been suggested even as a remote possibility. He must have some very eminent qualities to recommend him and to bring him such distinction in spite of the fact that he has been but a few months a cardinal.

This, however, is the usual experience in the election of pope for the cardinal who stands out as eminently eligible in the eyes of the world, is seldom, if ever, elected. The promptness and harmony with which the new pope was chosen shows the imperishable character of the church. Popes may die or they may suffer martyrdom as many of them did in the past; but in every case a new pope will be chosen just as ready to make any sacrifice for the faith as any of those who have gone before.

The indications point to the fact

Tronton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

HOME RULE BILL

On September 3, next Wednesday, the home rule for Ireland bill will be taken up in the British parliament and will undoubtedly be placed upon the statute book without delay.

It was supposed that the declaration of war against Germany would have caused the opposition to withdraw gracefully but the speech of Mr. Balfour shows that he and Mr. Carson still intend to oppose the measure. But it will be futile for them to do so as the bill will become law with the other great liberal measures which are still pending. The government would make a costly blunder if it failed to take the present opportunity of conciliating the Irish people.

LABOR DAY

Monday will be Labor day, a day devoted to the interests and enjoyment of the laboring classes in particular. This year the labor organizations wisely avoided the expense of a celebration inasmuch as there is a total absence of labor troubles aside from that of finding enough to do. It is to be hoped that the labor hosts will enjoy the day to the utmost whether in trips to the beach or to enjoy the transcendent grandeur of the woods now beginning to put on their autumnal splendors.

STREETS NOT WIDE ENOUGH

Since the arrival of the automobile in sufficient numbers to banish the horse, it appears that our streets are much too narrow. To make travel on our public streets safe and comfortable the streets should be very much wider and there should be large, open spaces at convenient points for the temporary parking of autos. At present there is great inconvenience in this respect, for when an auto stops on the street it is in somebody's way and there is no particular place in which it can get out of the way. The autos were unknown when the streets were laid out; but they should be provided for in all new streets.

Boston is keeping up its efforts to provide better fireproof construction in order to lessen the fire risks. The zigzag construction of Boston streets makes it more difficult to fight a bad fire in that city than almost anywhere else. But every other city as well as Boston has a duty to perform in lessening the fire hazards by promoting fireproof construction.

The removal of the seat of the French government from Paris to Bordeaux does not in any way indicate defeat or that the government is running away from its duty at Bordeaux. It will be in a better position to direct the war than it would be in Paris.

The United States hereafter will have a merchant marine sufficient to do its own business or at least a great portion thereof. President Wilson is encouraging this movement in every possible manner.

The reported landing of an army of 50,000 Russian soldiers in Scotland lets in some light upon the plan of campaign being worked out by the allies. It means a long struggle and an effort to isolate the German army in France.

THE SPELLBINDER

Having returned from his vacation, Commissioner Brown was in joking mood early this week and to a reporter of the Courier-Citizen he gave a story about calling a meeting of the Board of Finance.

The city treasurer, as will be seen by the foregoing, had full control over the perpetual care fund and may invest it as he sees fit regardless of what the municipal council, Commissioner Brown or the lot-owners may desire. He is under a bond of $50,000 for the care of the fund, which protects the lot-owners in the event of misappropriation of the funds.

City Treasurer Stiles only a short time ago had a rather unpleasant experience as the result of doing the bidding of members of the city council in the matter of the "county ring," a searching hearing that followed the discovery of the disappearance of the Huntington Hall fund which was used by the irresponsible city government of the past. Protected by the law, it is not likely that the treasurer will just himself open again by listening to any high financial schemes that may be developed at a meeting of the lot-owners or in the office of the commissioner of finance.

The John Davis Fund

It is probable that, henceforth the library trustees will get their financial advice from another source, especially since they have learned that two or three have been ready to institute injunction proceedings to restrain the municipal council from taking any part of the John Davis fund, should such an attempt be made. The library trustees, of which Mayor Murphy is a member, voted in regular meeting to loan the money to the city and are on record as having done so.

Thieves Bent the Germans

The burglars and thieves have it all over the German army for while the Germans are still miles away from Paris the thieves have got right into the heart of the city of Lowell, despite the allied forces of Mayor Murphy and Supt. Welch and according to yesterday's papers added insult to injury by stealing from city hall itself. Some time ago they made bold enough to break into the public library and stole a cash register. Getting away with it, they decided to try city hall and they did, with characteristic success. Fortunately the theft occurred when none of the commissioners was around or might have been startled by the announcement that one of the "Financial Five" had been kidnapped. The burglar who entered Dan Leary's dyehouse was caught, however, for which we are grateful to the Draught authorities.

Gorham Street Paving

At the opening of the year when money was appropriated for the paving of Gorham street, if memory serves me right, the estimate made at that time covered the cost of paving right up to the "railroad iron," as Commissioner Morse picturesquely described it, or in other words to the crossing on the hill at Manchester street. Now it is understood that the work will stop at the overhead railroad bridge, some little distance below the point originally contemplated. There is a balance should be left over in the Gorham street paving appropriation and again the city pays interest on money borrowed but not used.

The County Ring

History tells us that the Middlesex county ring, which is about to be prosecuted, for all time, it is hoped, dates way back to 1856 and there has been a continuous existence of 58 years for we read in Cowley's History of Lowell, the following:

"From 1856 dates the present Lowell jail, constructed according to a design by James H. and Co. The cost of this handsome edifice was about $150,000. The senseless manner in which the county commissioners wasted the people's money on this jail brought about the 'ring' which has so long controlled our county affairs, into disrepute. But the power of this 'ring' still remains unbroken." The edition of Cowley's history from which the foregoing was taken was published in 1863 and thus the historian was complaining of the 'ring' after 19 years' experience with it. But Judge Cowley, and nearly 60 years as well have passed on since then, but the 'ring' is still on the job and will continue thereon until the voters of Middlesex arise in their might and smash it. Having held away for half a century, the 'ring' is pretty strongly entrenched, but then, even the Gordian knot was cut, and the first impression on the 'ring' was made last year when Commissioner Barlow of this city was elected.

Although a brother republican he was not a "ring" republican, and hence Messrs. Gould and Williams combined against him and he has been little more than a figure-head, although his presence has had the one advantage of being a sort of restraining influence on this closed corporation. And now Commissioner Gould comes before the voters for re-election after many years' service and his defeat means the complete annihilation of the "ring." Major Barnes of Newton is the republican contender for the place, but it is extremely doubtful if Commissioner Gould can be defeated in the primaries. It will remain for a democratic candidate to put the finishing touches on the "county ring," and hence it is incumbent upon the democrats of Middlesex to consider the list of candidates carefully before making a choice. The democratic candidates, by the way, are so numerous that one finds it impossible to recall all of them by name, off-hand. Two stand out prominently, however, Deputy Sheriff Walsh of South Framingham and Senator Charles McCarthy, of Macabro. The former in the event of his nomination will resign his position and give all his time to his campaign.

With Decided Emphasis

Local thugs appear to be getting exceedingly bold when they attempt highway robbery within the shadow of the home of Judge Enright, in Fletcher street. Some time ago when a complaint was made about conditions prevailing at the north common at night, Supt. Welch is reported to have said that he didn't have enough money in his police department appropriation to permit him to police the common properly. There is a balance of $200 or more left over from the band concert appropriation which is transferred to the police department might pay the cost of a couple of supernumeraries for the common until such time as conditions improve. According to the Courier-Citizen, Supt. Welch stated with "decided emphasis," which probably means a lot of vocal power, that the North common hold up and general others mentioned in The Sun had not been reported to the police; but he did not state emphatically or otherwise that they didn't happen. Neither with the superintendent what Judge Enright and others have told him about conditions at the North common. If the superintendent hasn't money enough to give the city adequate protection, the public will back him up in any attempt he may make to get a sufficient amount.

Has Good Water

Patrick Toubey of Albion street came into The Sun office a few days ago carrying a glass containing a spotted lizard, the size of a minnow which he said came through the faucet in his house while his son was running the water preparatory to taking a drink. Mr. Toubey stated that upon showing the lizard to Supt. Thomas of the water department and telling him that it was captured in Albion street, Mr. Thomas expressed great surprise that any such animal should be found in the water. He lived near Albion street, he said, but never had found anything of the kind in the city water. In fact he said the water at his house just then was very good. He questioned Mr. Toubey's judgment as to the species of the find, claiming that it was a little fish and not a lizard. Anyhow he expects that the general blow-out of the water mains tomorrow will remove all the foreign matter from the pipes, whether animal, vegetable or mineral.

BIG EUROPEAN ORDER FOR AM. WOOLEN CO.

The Sun has been informed on what seems to be good authority that the Boston office of the American Woolen company has received an order for woolen fabrics from Europe of sufficient size to keep all the plants of this company running steadily for the next two years.

It is not stated from what particular source the order comes, but we are informed that already negotiations for financing the project are being carried on through the leading banks of Montreal. If the company receives this large contract Lowell will share in the prosperity that it will bring to the various mills of the concern in this vicinity.

An official of the company queried by telephone from The Sun office today stated that he had not heard of any such order being received although, he said, it might be in the hands of the head officials in Boston. The nature of the order may cause the company to preserve secrecy in regard to the European parties who are behind it.

NEW POPE FOR PEACE

SAID TO HAVE STATED THAT PONTIFF MUST ACTUALLY PLACE HIMSELF AMONG COMBATANTS

ROME, Sept. 4.—(5.50 p. m.)—Via Paris, Sept. 5. It was related here today that in conversations before his election, Pope Benedict XV. repeatedly expressed the necessity that the pontiff should intervene with an appeal for peace, not in a purely evangelical form but in a precise diplomatic action.

"The pope," he is quoted as saying, "must actually place himself amidst the combatants instead of keeping away and preaching peace and concord from a distance."

It is asserted that these ideas were expressed in the conclave with Genoese tenacity but at the same time showing such absolute neutrality toward the belligerents that it caused the majority to elect him pontiff.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The outpost forts of Paris are now in the hands of the Germans, according to the German official report issued today.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Gisors, a French town, estimates the total losses of the allies at 41,000 and the losses of the Germans at 200,000. He says a moderate estimate of the German losses places them at 20 per cent at least.

Sheer weight of numbers has pushed the Germans forward at the amazing rate of 25 miles a day, the correspondent adds. The Germans have shown no superiority in artillery or transport. The rapidity of their advance has been due largely to their use of the automobile for transportation.

GIVING GROUND BEFORE
GERMAN ADVANCE

LONDON, Sept. 5, 1.30 p. m.—The first great climax of the campaign of the allies against Germany waged so relentlessly for weeks past in northern France will not now be long delayed, according to opinion in London.

The first official communication from Bordeaux, the new seat of the French government, speaks of the German movement on Paris as having been diverted to the eastward, in which direction the invaders have reached La Fere-Sous-Jouarre, some 30 miles east of Paris. This would seem to confirm the German announcement that the allies have been driven back to and in some cases across the River Marne. According to other sources of information, the German troops are much nearer Paris than has been indicated officially. They are said to be within a few miles of Chantilly, 20 miles north of the capital.

The German general staff has been moved from Brussels to Mons, Belgium, near the scene of operations and Austrian soldiers would appear to have been brought from Lorraine to the western theatre of the war to fill the enormous gaps in the ranks of their German allies.

Conflicting news despatches and vague official statements leave the fortunes of the immense armies struggling before Paris today a matter of conjecture.

All accounts agree, however, that the movement is approaching swiftly when the French capital must have to resort to its own defenses. Despite occasional temporary successes of the allies, their line appears to be slowly giving ground before the German advance. The Germans in the form of a semi-circle seem to have reached points east and west of Paris, their left wing touching La Fere-Sous-Jouarre in the department of Seine-et-Marne.

The exact position of the German right wing is not revealed but so far as known it has not succeeded in getting around the allies' left formed by British troops.

A Rome despatch says that five German army corps have arrived at the Vistula river to support the German defense against the Russian invaders of East Prussia. The Russian general staff claims that its victorious army in Galicia is sweeping the Austrians before it.

Further fighting is reported at Tarnobrzeg, 16 miles east of Ghent, suggesting that the Belgian forces from Antwerp have again entered the fray.

There is no additional news regarding the Russian troops reported as having been landed at Ostend from British transports.

The Servians claim that the Austrians left 30,000 dead after the battle of Jadar and that the Servians left 30,000 dead after the battle of Jadar and that the Servians captured 4600 prisoners.

An official statement issued at Paris this afternoon says the Germans continue to leave Paris on their right and to march in a southeasterly direction.

FAMOUS HOTEL DESTROYED
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 5.—The hotel Appledore on Appledore Island, Isles of Shoals ten miles from the mainland was destroyed by fire today. Several cottages were also burned.

Telephone communication with the mainland was broken and the details of the fire could not be obtained until the return to this city of steamers that had gone to the island with firefighting apparatus. It was believed that the loss would approximate $150,000. The hotel, which was to have closed for the season this week, had a capacity of 500 guests.

RUSSIA WILL LAUNCH 20 CORPS AGAINST GERMANY

LONDON, Sept. 5 (5.50 a. m.)—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Rome contains a message from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) in which a high Russian military official is quoted as follows:

"When the war began Austria was our most serious enemy because except for four army corps sent against Serbia her entire army was directed against us."

"Now that Servia has annihilated four Austrian corps at Shabatz and we have decisively defeated 200,000 men between the Vistula and the Dniester, ten Russian army corps are sufficient to hold the Austrians in check, leaving us 20 corps free to launch against Germany."

BRITISH SHIPS COALED

Also Received Provisions From N. Y. — Wireless Messages Bear Out Ambassador's Charges

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Intercepted wireless messages, copied at the various stations in the vicinity of New York at which the United States government has placed censors would seem to explain the periodic appearance of British cruisers off the entrance of New York harbor.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has repeatedly expressed a conviction that the British men-of-war were being both provisioned and coaled from New York.

Maritime men have been totally unable to explain why first one and then several cruisers, known to be off the coast, would come within the three-mile limit, remain a while and then hurry off to sea again. How these cruisers managed to obtain provisions also has been the source of much speculation.

One of the wireless messages which has helped clarify the mystery was addressed to H. B. Hunt at 125 West Seventh street, New York. The message was picked up Sept. 1 at a station near New York which had been transferred from the British cruiser Suffolk to the American station at Staten Island. In this message Mr. Hunt was directed to bring a quantity of provisions and some newspapers to a point two miles south of Anderson's light at 11 o'clock the following morning. Among the provisions asked for was fresh beef.

Call to Suffolk
The following day, Sept. 2, as the White Star liner Olympic passed quarantine bound out, she sent by wireless the call letters of the Suffolk, and after receiving an acknowledgment, transmitted a dispatch signed "Hunt." In this "Hunt" informed the commander of the British cruiser that he had been at a point two miles south of the light at 11 o'clock that morning, but as the Suffolk failed to appear in appearance, he would return again at 2 o'clock that afternoon. Whether any provisions were actually delivered could not be determined.

To a representative of the Associated Press H. B. Hunt, at the address in West Seventh street, said that he had received a call from a collector from the Suffolk. Later when informed of the contents of the message, and that it was known that he had denied it, Mr. Hunt admitted that he had received it.

"I did not take the provisions out to the ship," he declared. "I was formerly a British subject but I am now an American citizen. I have done much work for the British admiralty, and for a number of years past I have always furnished provisions to British warships when they were in American waters."

Mr. Hunt denied that he had sent the information transmitted by the Olympic. The possibility of using New York harbor or any of the many small harbors of Long Island and New Jersey for the shipment of food or ammunition in addition to provisions, was suggested to Mr. Hunt. He said he had absolutely no intention of having anything to do with ammunition or coal.

Count von Bernstorff said that he had made an official complaint to Secretary of State Bryan at Washington about the provisioning and coaling of the British ships.

The ambassador said the information had come to him through his secretary, who received it from "other sources." "I have positive information," he continued, "that the cruisers sent wireless messages to the British consulate in New York. Soon after a vessel flying the American flag, accompanied by several coal barges, put out of New York harbor to the cruisers, and at a point in the harbor the three allies, having supplied them with ammunition, coal and provisions. According to my information this has been going on for some time, and the port of New York has been the supply depot for British men-of-war."

The ambassador said that it was his information that the coal and provisions were supplied by American firms. "The American people want peace," the ambassador continued, "but every load of ammunition and provisions that leaves here for England or for her ships means that the war will continue that much longer."

The ambassador said emphatically that Germany had not received arms, ammunition or provisions from England in the United States, and would not do so. Sir Courtenay Walter Bennett, British consul-general at New York, declined to take any notice of the allegations made by the German ambassador.

Clubhouse Neutralization
The basis of the representations made to Secretary Bryan, Count von Bernstorff said, was that American neutrality laws had been violated by the receipt and delivery of wireless messages from the British cruisers to the British consulate, asking that they be furnished with supplies.

"That is the only phase of the matter in which my government is interested," Count von Bernstorff said. "Of course I realize that Americans can sell supplies to England or to British cruisers, but I feel that it was improper for them to do so through use of the wireless."

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING NEWS

Activity in the building line is dropping down gradually and it is believed by many of the wise ones that the prevailing conditions will not change until next spring. There is but very little new work going on, but a large number of craftsmen are busy on old jobs. The real builder today is Eugene Demers, who recently returned from France, where it is said he made quite a little lump of cash. Mr. Demers is erecting six double houses in Stevens and Middlesex streets, and it is stated he will start the construction soon as the six new double houses are finished. Mr. Demers recently purchased a large tract of land from the Fifth estate in Middlesex street and it is upon this land that the new buildings are being erected.

Work on the Coulson property in Gorham street is progressing rapidly. A large gang of men are busy on the job and it will be but a short time before Henry Carr owns his new parlors. This building will cost about $15,000.

The new dwelling house of Dr. G. Omer Lavallee in the rear of his home, 759 Merrimack street, will be ready for the owners in a few days. This building, which is of wood, will contain three tenements of six rooms each with bath and kitchen.

Mrs. Mary L. Canady is erecting an $8500 property in Pine street. The house will contain four tenements of six rooms each.

The foundation for the new brick building in Hanover street is completed and the brick work will be started at once. The building is being constructed by A. B. Stavropoulos and will contain a couple of stores with a hall on the second floor. It will cost $10,000.

Ernest Greenberg's employees are kept busy. Mr. Greenberg is not building new houses but he is making numerous changes in his many dwelling houses. At 51 Lane street he is changing a two-family house into a three-tenement. To his building numbered 628 to 630 Market street he is adding two extra tenements.

D. M. Kazanjian is erecting a six-tenement house in Fifth street. Each tenement will consist of four rooms with bath and kitchen.

James S. Turner is changing a cottage into a two-tenement house at 50 Stevens street. The Ellen Donnelly estate is adding another tenement to the property numbered 455 and the same is being done to the other dwelling house in the rear.

Work has been started on the large dwelling house of Isaac Bernstein at the corner of Wille avenue and Salem street. The building will contain seven tenements, five of five rooms each and two of four rooms, as well as two stores. The approximate cost of the building will be $7,000.

The United States Carriage Co. will start next week the construction of an addition to its boiler plant in Lawrence street. This will consist of a wooden building 13 feet and 6 inches by 12 feet and 2 inches and will cost about $1,000.

Club Houses
The year 1914 will go down in the history of this city as a club year for up to the present time three new club buildings have been added to the building directory of Lowell. The Centralville Social club in West Sixth street was completed a few weeks ago at a cost of about $5,000 and two more are being erected. The Polish Karlova Home association is constructing a two-story wood and cement building in Coburn street at a cost of $5,000, while the Deutsch Hall German club is completing its new quarters, which consists of a two-story concrete and wood building in Plain street, the cost of which will be $6,000.

Dwelling Houses
Walter S. Coburn is erecting a home consisting of seven rooms with reception hall, bath and kitchen in Fairmount street. Elizer Rove is constructing a double house in Methuen street. Avila Sawyer is finishing a double house in White street. Ida P. Farrington is having a seven-room cottage erected in Warwick street. Ezra A. Jones is building a seven-room cottage in Rose avenue. Benjamin Staveland will soon occupy his new home of seven rooms in Savelley street. George A. Coburn is having an eight-room house constructed in Stevens street. Bertha M. Clark is building a bungalow of four rooms in Gorham street. Michael Shamus has nearly finished his seven-room cottage in Bishop street. William England is having a cottage built in Upham street. This will contain seven rooms with bath and all other modern conveniences. D. J. Rine, the piano man, is building a home of ten rooms with bath and reception hall at Tyler park at a cost of $5,000.

Mary E. Daggett will have her carpenters start on the erection of a seven-room house in Tenth street next week. Fred J. Guyette is constructing a cottage in Warwick street.

Papers have been passed on the sale of a first class small farm situated inside the city limits. This is located on Steadman street and has a combined frontage of over 100 feet. The buildings comprise a seven-room house, large barn, pigsty and several large houses. The land conveyed approximately five acres of fertile soil. There is an abundance of small fruit and an orchard of over 50 thirty fruit trees. This sale was effected for Mrs. Annie M. Goss, now of Dunstable, but formerly of Lowell, and the purchaser is Fred Green, recently of New York city. Mr. Green is already occupying the premises.

Contracts have been signed calling for the transfer of a first class suburban property located in Billerica. This is situated on the electric line. WAR NEWS

GERMANS MAY FORCE ALLIES TO GIVE BATTLE AT "GATES" OF PARIS

PARIS, Sept. 5.—That the Germans will not halt at Paris unless the allied armies give them battle in front of the city was considered certain here yesterday. The city is very nervous. There are no high government officials left.

Officials still here have no actual knowledge of conditions at the front. But that the Germans really are within striking distance of the outer ring of forts is indicated by the activity of Gen. Gallieni. He has been rushing his troops to the points of contact all through the night and it is asserted that every possible avenue has been occupied.

Meanwhile the focus from the city continues, but with the river line to the north and west blocked, most of the travel of necessity is toward the south. There is no doubt that the vicinity of Paris will be a real battleground within the next few days. The main German army is expected to attempt to force a passage to give battle almost at the gates of the city. If they do not succeed, then the Germans will undoubtedly press on against the French-English column, while concentrating their attack on Paris at one particular point.

It is never contemplated that Germany will ever reach Paris. Their operations, if they reach the city, will be a repetition of those at Namur. The fire of their enormous batteries of siege artillery, the greatest mass of modern time will be concentrated on one fortified position at a time. What the outcome will be no one can foresee.

The French losses in the three days' battle which culminated in the taking of Amiens were enormous. This is admitted to have been due to the inability of the French officers at times to control their men, who insisted on charging the German artillery positions. Thousands of Frenchmen were moved down in these mistaken exhibitions of courage.

The French lines held against the German attack when the plans of the staff were followed and the forces remained on the defensive. There was at all times a natural retirement. The French air scouts reported that the enemy far outnumbered the defenders and, in accordance with the arranged plan, the French moved slowly backward, making a wide detour to draw the main German army well away from the city.

After Amiens the next stand was at Piquigny, eight miles further south. En route the French had destroyed great sections of the highway, the tunnel and all bridges, but this hardly checked the Germans, whose transport is wonderful. They replaced all destroyed bridges with temporary structures almost immediately.

KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE DIRECTED GERMANS WHO WERE CHECKED AT VERDUN

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The German invaders have been checked at Verdun, an official dispatch.

This repulse is regarded of great strategic importance, as the position of the Germans, now within a few miles of Paris, is perilous as long as the French centre and right wing hold firm.

Exhausted by their heaving attacks on the French and British and by their forced marches of the last two weeks, the German columns now near the outer ring of the Paris forts paused yesterday. They made no effort to assault the allies. Instead they began the rearrangement of their forces into new strategic positions. In preparation for a renewal of the assault.

The allies took advantage of this delay to bring up fresh troops from the rear and place them for the defense of Paris. The allies will renew the battle with their supplies of ammunition and food immediately at hand, while the Germans must depend on constantly threatened lines of nearly 200 miles long.

Dispatches from Berlin describe the fighting between Verdun and Rheims as the greatest battle in history, with 150,000 men engaged. If this estimate is correct, it shows that the French had concentrated huge forces to hold their centre against the Germans, regardless of the near approach of the invaders of Paris.

Both the Crown Prince and Emperor William were present in the German lines. It is this correct it tends to confirm the growing impression here that the rapid advance on Paris is a secondary feature of the war and that the real struggle of decisive character is being fought in the center.

The French official communications continue to show an utter absence of pessimism, and they are generally regarded as indicating that the situation of the allies is far from being as bad as might have been conjectured from the stereotyped announcement of retreats. Some correspondents go so far as to suggest that the invaders of French soil have been fought to a standstill.

LATE WAR BULLETINS

ALLIES CHEERED BY VERDUN VICTORY

LONDON, Sept. 5.—With the German cavalry hovering within sight of the outermost forts of Paris, London was cheered yesterday by reports of desperate fighting by the allies, which has, for the moment at least, turned the tide of battle against the invaders.

Between Verdun and Rheims, where the Germans have massed 750,000 men to break the centre of the great defending line about Paris, the allies have been able since Wednesday to check the most formidable charges ever witnessed on French soil.

The unexpectedly stiff defence has apparently brought about a change in the plans of the German army from the north, which has been sweeping so swiftly southward against Paris.

King Was Hit Hard

Fred Lake and his Manchester Hawks who while they are not shining much this year, according to their friends are going to be some team next season, descended upon Spalding park yesterday for a battle with the Grays, lately strengthened by a raw recruit in the person of "Pooch" Donovan, not the famous short distance athlete but a much younger person possessed a would appear from his debut, with a wallop.

Considerable interest was taken in Capt. Sweet of the Manchester team as a result of the rumor that Tom Fleming, the old Lowell manager, who is scouting for the Federal league, was looking after Sweet. The captain with the hot name doesn't know anything about the report.

At the outset Umpire Deberry announced a double-header here tomorrow, first game at 2 o'clock. The crowd was not large.

First Inning

Kelly took Sweet's high foul fly. Fahy came inside and took Kane's slow roller, throwing the Manchester center field out at first by a fraction of a stride. Simpson was waiting for Kane's high fly in left and Lowell went to bat. No runs, no hits, no errors. For Lowell, King was wild and passed Swaine on four pitched balls. McCleskey hit sharply to Sweet and Swaine was forced at second. Mac's speed preventing a double-play. McCleskey stole second on the first ball pitched. Fahy singled between Spies and Torrey. McCleskey going to third. Fahy went to second while Ostregren fielded Simpson's grounder and made the out-out himself. Mac was held at third. Dee doubled along the first base foul line sending both Mac and Fahy. Kelly kept up the good work with a single to left and Dee scored. Kelly making second on the throw in. After waiting for three balls Donovan, the boy with the wallop hit center for two bases and Kelly scored. Wagon hit at second base and Sweet threw him out. Four runs, four hits, six errors.

Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Second Inning

McCleskey and Kelly did the business on Ostregren's grounder. The same play was repeated on Reed. Spies dropped a Texas leaguer into short center for Manchester's first hit. King uncocked a wild pitch and Spies went to second. Kihullen lifted a fly to Swaine. No runs, one hit, no errors. In Lowell's half, King took three healthy swings at the ball and then retired to the bench. King stopped Swaine's grounder and threw him out at first. McCleskey sent a foul fly to Ostregren and closed the inning. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Third Inning

In the third, King sent up a fly to short right and "Pooch" was there. Scanton then singled to left. Sweet sent a grounder to King who struck Scanton at second. King then struck Kane out. No runs, one hit, no errors. In Lowell's half, Fahy started off the third with a single over short. King knocked down Simpson's grounder and he threw to Sweet, forcing Fahy at second. Dee came through with a single to left and Simpson went to second. Both advanced on Kelly's infield out. Donovan went out on a grounder to Ostregren. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell, 4; Manchester, 0.

Fourth Inning

Dee picked up Reed's grounder and the runner went out at first. McCleskey and Kelly made simple work of Ostregren's ground ball. Kelly fumbled Torrey's grounder and the read-headed shortstop got a life. It was an mishap of the game. Donovan did not want Kelly to stand along in the error column and he allowed Spies' single to get by him. Torrey going to third and Spies to second. Kihullen went out on a grounder to Kelly. No runs, one hit, one error. In Lowell's half, Wagon showed good judgment and waited for a free ticket. King made three more lusty wallops at the air. Swaine walked into a fast one and the result was a two-bagger to right when sent Wagon to third. Pete scored while Sweet was throwing out McCleskey and Swaine went to third. Fahy then decided to right driving in Swaine. The third sacker tried to make it a triple and was thrown out.

Two runs, two hits, two errors.

Score: Lowell, 8; Manchester, 0.

Fifth Inning

Fahy dug up King's grounder and his peg to Kelly got the Manchester pitcher at the initial station. Scanton poked the ball to right field for his second single. Sweet struck out, an unusual performance for Sweet. Kane lifted a fly to Swaine in deep center. No runs, one hit, no errors.

King knocked down Simpson's grounder but the Lowell left fielder beat the ball to first. Simpson went to second on Dee's infield out and took third while Wagon was threatening out Kelly. Donovan came through with another hit, a single to center which sent Simpson over the plate. Wagon walked for the second time but King closed the inning with a grounder to King. One run, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell, 7; Manchester, 0.

Sixth Inning

Dee made a nice play of Reed's hard grounder getting the runner at first. Ostregren was lucky when Sherry booted his grounder but on the next play the Lowell infield pulled off a double when Torrey struck out. McCleskey, Ostregren was forced at second and Torrey died a first. No runs, no hits, one error.

Swaine sent up a fly which landed in Spies' glove. Torrey did not have to move for McCleskey's hit. Fahy sent up the third infield fly.

JIMMY KING

The inning. Another offering to Spies. Three errors.

Score: Lowell, 7; Manchester, 0.

Seventh Inning

Spies went down by the strike-out route. Kelly took Kihullen's high fly and Donovan was under King's heat to short right. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Simpson went to first on four bad leaves by King and Dee scattered him alone to the first base. Simpson went to third on Kelly's infield out and then Kid Donovan sent the crowd into spasms by connecting his third hit, a single to left on which Simpson scored. Wagon then singled in the same direction and when Scanton at- tacked the ball to pitch him Donovan went to third and Wagon to second.

Johnny King lived up to form and struck out for the third time. One run, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell, 8; Manchester, 0.

Eighth Inning

King issued his first pass of the game when he sent four bad ones to Scanton. Fahy threw out Sweet on his grounder and made second. Kane could not find King's curves and he struck out. Reed followed Kane's example with three more strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Swaine opened Lowell's half of the eighth with a scratch single. McCleskey forced Swaine to second with a creeper to Sweet. Fahy in turn forced McCleskey into a sacrifice bunt. Torrey, Simpson drove a sacrifice single to right advancing Fahy a peg. Simpson was out on the third forced play of the inning when Dee hit to Sweet. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell, 8; Manchester, 0.

Ninth Inning

GLENS FALLS, N. FIND COST OF MILK

AGRICULTURAL BODIES WILL ASCERTAIN WHAT IT COSTS TO PRODUCE QUART OF MILK IN N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 5.—Cooperating with the United States department of agriculture, the New Hampshire department of agriculture, the Dairyman's association, and the agricultural committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, the state grants will hold meetings at Portsmouth, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11 a. m.; Concord, Thursday, Sept. 17, at 11 a. m.; and Whitefield, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 11 a. m., to discuss "What it costs to produce a quart of milk in New Hampshire and the problems surrounding it."

The New England Milk Producers' association, through its secretary, Richard Patten, asked the Boston chamber of commerce to look into the New England milk situation with a view of recommending how present conditions can be bettered. Following the request, a meeting was held in Boston on July 7, where plans were agreed upon by the representatives of the federal department of agriculture, the state agricultural agencies and the chamber of commerce for co-operative survey of the producers' transportation and distribution of milk in New England.

The state grange officials have sent out a circular letter to subordinate grange officers in this connection, asking that all grange lecturers, in addition to their regular program, at the first meeting in September, discuss the following questions for 15 minutes:

"What It Costs to Produce a Quart of Milk"

"How Can Milk Be Marketed at a Profit?"

"We want all milk producers to attend one or more of these meetings and bring with them whatever data they may have on the cost of the production of milk." The dealer says:

"Each grange should be represented by its master and at least one delegate who is interested in dairying. These meetings are of vital importance to the agricultural interests of the state, as dairying is the largest agricultural industry. The conditions surrounding the production of milk and its marketing have changed materially in the last few years. In order to obtain a better price for milk the producers must thoroughly understand all of these new conditions."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Officer 666," the play that is scheduled for production at the Merrimack Square theatre commencing with Labor day matinee, is another of the big really plays that is attracting more than ordinary attention wherever it is presented.

"Officer 666" is a melodramatic farce without any musical trimmings. Its scenes form a story of a young millionaire who finds that his riches fail to satisfy him, and he seeks variety in life. In this condition he is suddenly confronted with a proposition that requires the activity of all his wits in solving. The play is said to be a masterpiece of character and situations that one can laugh at to one's heart's content without being compelled to apologize to one's seat-mate for the exhibition of hilarity.

On the contrary, the play is said to be a clean, healthy farce that is a coherent story, and which may be recalled without a blush.

Sam A. McHenry and Miss Eva Marsh, who will play the leading roles in the piece, both declare it's one of the best plays in which they have ever appeared. Both will be given excellent opportunity to display their recognized ability as actors and actresses in the cast who will also be seen to the advantage in the play.

The manager, Eugene Desmond, William R. Freeman, Ted. Brachet and May B. B. are absolutely certain that the scenic production has not been better for all performances are now on at the box office. Subscription list open.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Another magnificent program of special vaudeville and motion picture features is carded for the Sunday "Pop" concert at the Academy of Music tomorrow. All new vaudeville acts and new pictures will characterize the Sunday entertainment and in addition to the regular bill there will also be a special Keystone comedy and a number of other big events to strengthen the already strong program.

"The Girls from Payland" with Frank L. Wakefield as "Steve the Special" will be the attraction for the Labor day matinee on Monday afternoon at the Academy of Music and will continue for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is a famous Sullivan-Williams $25,000 production that is booked to play long engagements in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and owing to the enormous expense of bringing this production to Lowell, the management of the Academy of Music announce it will be necessary to entirely suspend the free list for the engagement.

D. F. KERRIS THEATRE

The new policy of advanced vaudeville and motion picture plays will be presented for the first time at the D. F. Kerris theatre Monday afternoon—three times a day—daily season. Everything will be new, new prices, new pictures, new schedule for the week. The management of the theatre has been said previously that the management is adopting the form of entertainment which has proven most popular in many of the larger centres of the land. It will be new here.

THE OWL THEATRE

Next week's attraction at the Owl will surpass all previous efforts. Monday and Tuesday, will be the last of the famous and the last of the famous Players in "The Squaw Man," a magnificent photo-play masterpiece in five parts, that has already proved a great favorite in Lowell. On Wednesday, and Thursday, "The Life of Napoleon" will be the subject, the Electric Feature company has scored a big success in this magnificent production and the Owl will show it for the first time in Lowell. On Friday and Saturday the thirteenth installment of "The Forts of Pauline" will occupy the central position on the program. It will be surrounded by a regular program of genuine merit, many of the very best releases having been chosen for these two days only. Today's program contains a number of excellent subjects, "Class of '66," the three-part feature, "Our Mutual Girl" in her weekly adventure is as winsome as ever, while a two-part drama, a Key-stone comedy and some other complete the show. Tomorrow the Sunday day performance will hold many new and attractive features.

CANOBIE LAKE

Tonight and Labor day will give the amusement seekers of this city their last opportunity to enjoy the ninth and final edition of the Human Musical Revue which is closing its summer engagement at Canobie Lake park theatre preparatory to opening in another city for the coming fall and winter.

This big musical company of favorites has been a veritable success all through the mild days, has been proven by the increasing attendance ever since the initial opening and even now when the news is given that the season is to draw to a close there have been requests of patrons who have urgently requested the management to continue its season for a few weeks longer. This has been found impossible owing to the contracts of the company in other cities and so after Labor day the patrons will be compelled to wait until another season for the return of their singing and dancing favorites, all of whom are leaving the lake with sad regrets.

Labor day, too, will be the last opportunity for the many thousands who were caught by the picture man at Canobie two weeks ago, to see the picture shown upon the screen at the theatre, the management offers this big attraction in addition to the regular program all this week.

For Sunday the management has secured another big picture program which will leave a lasting impression among the patrons and the fact that it can select its pictures from a large list of big features that are not available to the Massachusetts theatres owing to the restrictions of the Massachusetts state police who bar everything of a sensational nature.

The last band concert of the present season will be offered Sunday at the theatre from 8 to 5 o'clock when all seats will be free to those who desire to enjoy the splendid program of music that has been arranged.

DRILLED 48 YEARS AGO

J. B. GRAHAM OF SPENCER SURPRISED BY CHECK FOR $100 FROM PENIAN BOUNTY FUND

SPENCER, Sept. 5.—John Edward Graham of Lake street, who passed his early life in Nova Scotia, was a pretty happy man yesterday, when he received by mail a check for $100 from the Penian bounty fund, in payment for 10 days' drilling in the Kings county militia 48 years ago, with interest for that period of time.

Mr. Graham drilled at Wolfville, N. S. near his home and never expected to see more than a year ago, he received official documents to all out, certifying that he drilled at the time of the Fenian raid in 1866, but supposed that the action was taken merely as a matter of form, and was greatly surprised when the check came.

Mr. Graham and with his wife celebrated their golden wedding last February.

He is 77 years of age and is a gardener.

ASQUITH MAKES APPEAL

Premier Spoke With Great Emotion in Guildhall—Urged Britons to Rally to Colors

LONDON, Sept. 4, 1.15 p. m.—In the historic guildhall of London Premier Asquith today started the crusade to stimulate enlistment under the British flag, which he intends to push throughout the country. He is calling upon every able-bodied Briton of military age to come to the help of his country in the hour of need.

The premier opened his address with the heartening announcement that up to today between 250,000 and 300,000 recruits had responded to the call of Lord Kitchener, the secretary of war. Speaking with great emotion, the premier called attention to the fact that it was just three and one-half years ago that he had spoken in the guildhall on the occasion of the decision of the two English-speaking nations of the world to settle their differences by arbitration without resorting to armaments.

"No one was then sanguine enough to think, or even hope, that the era of war was at end," the premier continued. "But no one anticipated such a terrible spectacle as confronts us today at a time when we thought we were confident in the security of peace. We now find ourselves involved with the whole strength of this empire in a bloody arbitrament of might versus right that has been entered into with clear judgment and a clear conscience," the premier declared. "What would have been our place among the nations if we had been base enough to paralyze in our sense of honor and duty to be false to our word and faithfulness to our friends? We should have been standing with folded arms and with such countenance as we could command while this small and unprotected state, Belgium, was defending her vital liberties and making a heroic stand against overwhelming forces."

Continuing, Premier Asquith detailed the heroic efforts of the Belgian forces. He mentioned the siege of Liege and enumerated countless outrages on the part of what he termed "barbaric adventurers." He declared that the greatest crime against civilization was the sacking of Louvain.

"This shameful holocaust," the premier continued, "was a horror which blind barbaric vengeance. Sooner than stand aside we would see this country of ours blotted out from the pages of history."

Continuing, the British prime minister made the declaration that the invasion of Belgium was the first step in a greater policy to crush the freedom and autonomy of the free states of Europe.

He then paid a compliment to the policy of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary.

Reviewing the incidents leading up to the war he declared that one power and one power only was responsible for the war, and that power was Germany.

The premier praised France and Russia as two great powers who did not mean to separate themselves from Great Britain any more than Great Britain meant to separate herself from them.

The premier made the declaration that his object was to impress on the people the imperative urgency of this supreme duty.

Referring to affairs at home, the premier declared that since the order of mobilization had been given between 250,000 and 300,000 recruits have been secured.

As to the progress of the war, the premier declared that in his judgment in whatever direction he looked there was abundant grounds for pride and comfort. "I will not say more," he said, "because I think we should bear in mind that we are at the present time watching the fluctuations of fortune in the early stages of what is going to be a protracted struggle."

The meeting came to an end with speeches by Bonar Law, leader of the Unionist party in the house of commons, and former Premier Balfour.

Mr. Law declared that the key to peace or war had been in Berlin for nearly a generation. "The head of the German movement," he declared, "merely to whisper the word 'war' and there would have been no war. He did not speak that word but drew the sword and may the accursed system for which he stood perish by it."

Mr. Balfour said that Great Britain had entered the war because honor and interests could not be divorced and because of a nation which strove for great power but which was utterly ignorant how to use it.

RECORD PRICE FOR WHEAT

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Yesterday's record price for wheat, 1.25 1/4, was displaced in the opening trades today when the May option sold at 1.25 1/2, an advance of more than four cents a bushel compared with last night's close. Reports that Holland had received an ultimatum from Germany excited the trade and there were advices that big export orders were being handled in the United States for the direct account of the governments of Great Britain, France and Greece.

It was said that one firm in Minneapolis had sold 100,000 barrels of flour to France. European buying of oats, too, appeared to be limited only by the amount available for immediate shipment at the seaboard.

Profit-taking on the upturn was lively. Reactions ensued amounting in some cases to more than one cent a bushel.

NORTH POMONA

Grange Opened its Fall Session in This City Yesterday

The 1914 fall session of the Middlesex North Pomona grange was auspiciously opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street. Grange Master A. G. Sutherland was the presiding officer. After the regular routine business had been transacted, the meeting was taken over by Mrs. Nettie O. Wilson, the grange lecturer. The morning subject, "What effect will the European war have on business in the United States?" was discussed by Lewis Macbrayne and the following ones, prominent in agricultural life, spoke on the subject: George Trull of Tewksbury, E. P. Dickerson of Billerica, L. W. Wheeler of Westford, and Mrs. Margaret Wright of Billerica. After quite a lengthy debate in which every point pro and con had been carefully weighed it was decided that the war will have a very beneficial effect on business in the United States. The speakers were loudly applauded at the close of their remarks. At the close of the arguments all repaired to the lower hall, where a hearty repast, prepared by the ladies of the Westford grange, was awaiting them. After dinner the time was spent enjoyably in whist and games until 2.15, when the afternoon program was opened by Lecturer Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. Charles W. Kimball of Littleton was the first speaker called upon and he took for his subject, "Is there a brighter outlook in store for the farmer?" His talk was in part as follows: "There are certain indications that unfortunately show that the farmer has good grounds for believing that in spite of disastrous seasons and disappointed hopes, a brighter day is dawning for those who seek their livelihood through the pursuit of agriculture. And one of the first of these is the fact that people in general, and business men in particular, are beginning to see the important part that the farmer plays in our great industrial system of today. 'At the recent convention of the bankers of this country held in the city of Boston, one of the most important topics discussed was that of agriculture and it was ably handled by Mr. James J. Hill, the great president of the Northern Pacific railroad. Now I do not remember all he said, but this statement I do recall: 'Nearly all our wealth, with the exception of a small amount from the mines and the sea, comes from the soil, and we are now in a position to produce crops more voluminous and abundant than any other nation in the world. In fact it is a well known axiom, that when our farmers are busy and prosperous, there is no stagnation in business and little idleness in our mills and factories.' 'Again the back to the land movement, or as some say, perhaps more accurately, the farm to town movement, has served to interest large numbers of people in farming who would have never considered the idea of seeking a livelihood from agricultural pursuits. As to the farmer in politics or the farmer vote there is no one today who dares to enter a political contest where the constituency is made up wholly or in part of the farming element, without taking into consideration the strength and power it has to swing an election one way or the other. There can be no doubt of the fact that three years ago this fall, when Governor Foss was seeking re-election, the votes of the farmers decided the contest in his favor. 'Candidates for presidential, gubernatorial, and congressional honors are fully alive to the fact that the farming element pays a large part in the election to office and to ignore this is to simply invite defeat. 'With the high cost of living there has come a profound respect for the man who supplies our markets and is such an essential factor in our economic system. 'In fact the farmer seems to be coming into his own, taking the place that is his by right. With the increase of population in America, with the consuming power of the world gradually advancing, there is also an increase in the demand for farm products. This means that the man who holds the pivotal position in feeding the world is to be a greater economic necessity in the future than in the past. Now if someone will come forward and solve the problem of dry seasons and hired help (and I think we can solve the former, while the latter to my mind is the most difficult problem for the farmer of today) I believe that the outlook for the farmer would be brighter, and this, I believe, would be true not only for some of the reasons which I have already advanced but because the progressive farmer of today has forsaken many of the old methods and is making use of modern means for carrying on his business. There are many farms at work now to help the farmer in his need. For instance there are the agricultural colleges and schools, the extension schools, institutes and grange gatherings like this one, that are disseminating knowledge upon every hand, which does not come for mere pittance or a slight effort. Scientific methods of farming, intensive farming, improved machinery and a thousand and one things are making the lot of the farmer a very different one from that of our forefathers. Prizes and premiums for a high grade of fruit, for superior vegetables, for pure clean and healthful milk produced under good, clean, sanitary conditions are encouraging the farmer to do his level best and to increase his store of comforts and happiness. There can be no question but that we are getting better things to eat, we are getting better clothes, and we are getting better homes, and we are getting better lives, and we are getting better lives because we are taking care of our trees. 'Any organization which increases the sum total of the happiness and contentment of the great mass of the common people as I believe the grange is doing today, is doing a work the value of which cannot be estimated by the lives and the characters of the men it has thus far influenced. Agriculture we say is the basis of all our industries, and to this we add that the farmer is the bed rock of our civilization. George Albright of Littleton also spoke interestingly on the farmer and was well received. Thompson Flood of Westford proved to be a royal entertainer and he kept the party in good humor the entire afternoon with his witticisms. Westford Grange orchestra furnished music between the speeches.

SALEM RELIEF FUND

HARD TO DECIPHER—LOWELL COMMITTEE CANNOT FIND OUT WHERE LOWELL STANDS

Without criticizing the doings of the Salem relief fund committee, it seems that the members of the said committee have a very poor way of doing business, or at least it seems that way, according to a reply to Patrick O'Hearn, treasurer of the local committee, who wrote the treasurer of the Salem committee asking him to let him know just how Lowell stood with other cities as to the amounts donated the sufferers.

At the last meeting of the Lowell committee it was voted that the treasurer write the treasurer of the Salem committee, asking him how Lowell stood with other cities of the commonwealth, for the local committee felt that Lowell having sent over $10,000 must be pretty near the top of the list. Mr. O'Hearn wrote the reply was as follows:

AUG. 26, 1914.
Patrick O'Hearn, Esq., 232 Riverside street, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:

In Mr. Lane's absence I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter dated Aug. 25 and enclosed check for $420.39. I know that the committee will be very grateful to you for this additional subscription.

I regret that I cannot answer your question in regard to the amount subscribed by other cities in Massachusetts. This is because the cities did not hold back their subscriptions every day. It would be a tremendous task to go through the books and pick out the various subscriptions from the various cities and add them together. I think you will appreciate this position.

Very truly yours,
Paul Garland,
Secretary to Gardner M. Lane.

Predict Officers

Commissioner Brown of the finance department yesterday morning appointed the precinct officers for the coming election. The commissioner instance, sent a circular letter to all precincts showing the list for all those who served at the last election have been reapportioned. However a few changes will have to be made for some of the men appointed have changed wards since the election and cannot serve in any other ward but that in which they reside.

Mayor Invited

Mayor Murphy has received an invitation to attend the convention of the League of American Municipalities, which will be held at Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1 and 2. The letter was sent by the city clerk of Milwaukee, P. F. Louch and in it he states that the city has experiments stations showing the various systems of sewage disposal, which stations have just been put into operation and are educational for city officials who desire to see them.

High School Annex

The new high school annex in Kirk street will not be ready for occupancy for the opening of the fall term on Sept. 14. Supt. Francis A. Connor of the school department stated yesterday that the place will not be ready until the first of October. He said this will not interfere with the school for special classrooms will be arranged in the hall of the main high school building pending the opening of the new building.

Chelmsford Street Hospital

On Monday the employees of the Chelmsford street hospital will start the harvesting of corn and the superintendent, Martin Conley, reports that this year's crop is the best for years. He estimates that about 180 tons of corn will be housed and he allows that that is going some.

The Attendance at the Hospital Is far the largest for this time of the year than in any other previous year. There are now 414 inmates in the hospital and the women are so numerous that a ward which has been closed for the past ten years will be opened this week. New beds and other pieces of furniture will be purchased for the fitting up of this ward. "This was the old ward occupied by insane women and when the law forced the city to remove its insane patients in 1904, this ward was closed. Mr. Conley says: 'If there is no change in the present condition the hospital will be overtaxed before the snow flies, and he does not know how the inmates will be accommodated. Only 550 can be comfortably taken care of and the superintendent fears this number will be reached before a great while.'

Examined

Examiners Bowen and Hubbell of the state highway commission came to Lowell yesterday morning and they were kept very busy for no less than 30 applicants for chauffeur's licenses were examined.

To Balance Plant

The United States Cartridge Co. has been granted a permit for the erection of an addition to its roller plant in Lawrence street. The building will be of wood with cement foundation and floor and will cost about $1200.

CENTRALVILLE BRIDGE FIRE

At about the noon hour yesterday a still alarm called out the members of engine 5 to a brisk blaze in the planking of a walk in the Centralville bridge. The fire was caused, it is thought, from a carelessly thrown cigarette stub. Slight damage.

750,000 MEN IN BATTLE

Between Germans and French in Western Field—Asquith Expects Protracted Struggle

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Reference to the titanic struggles between the German army under Crown Prince Frederick William and the forces of France which took place between Rheims and Verdun Wednesday is made again today from Berlin. If the Berlin statement proves correct—that three quarters of a million troops were fighting in that region Wednesday in "the greatest battle of history," it would explain much of what has been happening in the western field.

To bring the troops in that region to anything like the number of 750,000 enormous French forces must have been concentrated at the expense of the French left flank where the Germans have been making progress with their brilliant dash on Paris. The battle along the Rheims-Verdun line has been claimed in an earlier message from Berlin as a victory for the army of the crown prince who is reported to have had the assistance of Emperor William, who was present.

That nothing further concerning such a historic fight now two days old has come through from any source is regarded as remarkable even in these days when virtually all sources of information are official.

The French official communications continue to show an utter absence of pessimism and they are generally regarded as indicating that the situation of the allies is far from being as bad as might be conjectured by superficial observers judging from the stereotyped announcements of retirements. Some correspondents go so far as to suggest that the invaders of French soil have been fought to a standstill.

There is no confirmation of the report from Bern, Switzerland, that a German force under General Von Delheim has been obliged to take refuge in Switzerland to avoid capture by the French.

In an appeal to the nation to join the colors made by Premier Asquith in Guildhall today, the speaker said he recognized that the present was only the "early stages of what is going to be a protracted struggle."

The premier made also this statement: "I had abundant grounds for pride and comfort in whatever direction I looked."

TRAINING COLLEGE FOR MEN TEACHERS

The state board of education is planning a training school for men teachers to be established at Worcester. Up to the present there seems to have been an impression in some quarters that only the women required training for the teaching profession while proof that a man had graduated from some college or university seemed to be accepted as prima facie evidence of his ability to teach. If the state board can overcome this fallacy and expose its baneful effect on the whole public school system, it will render an invaluable service to the cause of education throughout the commonwealth.

The state normal schools are attended only by young women preparing for work in primary and grammar grades while the principals of grammar schools and all the teachers in high schools are required to be college graduates. Hence it appears that with the exception of some female teachers who have taken special courses, very few high school teachers and still fewer principals of grammar schools have had any training for the business.

We have not yet risen fully above the old idea that if a man who has been to college fails in every other line of business, he can take to school teaching. Is it any wonder that so many briefless lawyers, so many unsuccessful doctors, so many men who are unable to earn a living in any other way, are found engrafted on the school system in which their defective work is shielded by politics or approved by people who are not competent to judge. The people who have to pay the teachers, and who do really pay for the best, are thus imposed upon but they have no redress.

In our own city for example, when a vacancy for grammar master occurs the school board does not look for a man who has had any special training to fit him for such a position. All it asks is, whether the candidate is a college graduate and whether morally he is a man fit to be placed in charge of children. There is really no insistence upon his having any special qualification for the position either in reference to his ability to teach or to govern.

What is the result? If he be a man of fact, he sets to work to study methods of teaching, but he learns mainly from the well trained and experienced teachers in charge of the various grades. In time he may become a valuable man; but it is a well known fact that some principals never make much progress and never reach the degree of proficiency necessary to success.

In the classrooms of high schools throughout the state it is easy also to find many misfit teachers, because they have never had any training for the work in which they are engaged. Many of them do not understand the first principles of the art of teaching and as a result they are unable to get down to the level of their classes, to give clear explanations or to invest the subject in hand with that degree of interest which commands the attention and controls the will of the pupils.

It is to remedy this state of affairs and to give Massachusetts the best equipped teachers to be found in the country, that the state board of education through Commissioner Snodden, has planned to provide a course suitable for the proper training of men for the teaching profession. Without knowing the details of the plan, we presume that it will provide a substitute for a college course, giving special attention to the art of teaching and its kindred branches. Boys who have prepared for college at a high school might enter such a school to fit themselves for the teaching profession just as they might go to a law school or a medical school to enter either of these professions, with this difference however, that at the Normal school while being trained as teachers their general education would be greatly extended.

The state board has already provided special training for mechanical teachers in vocational schools at the Fitchburg Normal school; training in business courses at the Salem Normal; in domestic science and household arts at the Frammingham school. By providing a special school which will serve as a training college for men teachers, the board of education will have completed the system of preparing all classes of teachers for their varied lines of work. We know of no other prospective step in educational progress that would be of such great benefit to the public schools of the state as a training college for men such as the state board has proposed.

THE REMOVAL OF PUTNAM

The removal of Supt. Putnam of the street department by the municipal council has caused considerable surprise throughout the city because those who followed the testimony had reached the conclusion that there was no evidence to sustain any charge that would justify the action taken.

In our opinion the commissioner of streets and highways should have absolute authority to hire and fire every one of his subordinates with or without cause so that he could be held strictly accountable for results; but our new charter places the responsibility on the municipal council as a whole and provides that certain officials, such for example, as the superintendent of streets, shall not be removed except for cause and after a public hearing on the charges preferred.

The charges against Supt. Putnam were preferred by Commissioner Morse and none of them seemed to be very serious. But at the hearing the general impression was that the evidence was very weak and that the defense offered by Mr. Putnam proved that he was not guilty of the charges made and that he should, therefore, be exonerated. This conviction was strengthened by the fact that when the evidence for the government was offered a motion to dismiss the charges. That motion was defeated. Then came Mr. Putnam's defense, which no far as outsiders could judge simply demolished the main charges and fully vindicated his action so far as any charge of malfeasance or mismanagement was concerned.

Three members of the municipal council, namely, Mayor Murphy, Commissioners Morse and Brown, voted to remove Mr. Putnam and Commissioners Carmichael and Donnelly against his removal. Thus Commissioner Morse who appeared in the role of prosecutor sat in judgment upon the case, which, while it may be his right, is not in accordance with the strict judicial procedure. It was believed from the beginning that Commissioner Morse, to whom Mr. Putnam was persona non grata, would vote for removal; but it was believed also in view of the lack of damaging evidence against Mr. Putnam, that the other commissioners would vote for his retention and exoneration.

Mayor Murphy said he voted for removal on the first and sixth charges which summarized are: For the good of the service, and because Commissioner Morse has not sufficient confidence in the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam. It is difficult to see how the accused official could defend himself against the personal opinion of any commissioner.

Public sentiment approves the action of Commissioners Carmichael and Donnelly in voting against removal on the ground that the charges so far as they amounted to anything were not proven. The responsibility rests with the three commissioners who voted Mr. Putnam out of office.

along the river bank to Bridge street so as to avoid the First street hill?

That is an improvement in which the county commission or the state highway commission should assist. But if neither body sees fit to construct this piece of road it should be done by the city as a necessary public improvement of great importance. Essex county is constructing a piece of boulevard on the Lawrence end from Glen Forest into the city. Part of this strip is in Methuen; but the greater portion is in Lawrence. Yet the Essex county commission does not hesitate to do the work. Why then does not Middlesex county undertake to finish the boulevard on the Lowell end?

It was announced that Lowell would benefit greatly by having one of her citizens on the county commission. Now that Mr. Barlow is a member, the citizens of Lowell look to him to have something done about constructing this piece of road, which is less than a quarter of a mile in length.

The First street hill is a menace to safety which motorists naturally avoid. The rest of the road is ideal and when the Lawrence end is finished the only bad section from New Hampshire to Newburyport will be in Lowell—between Bridge street and Llewellyn street.

We appeal to County Commissioner Barlow to have something done about this matter or else tell the reason why.

Is there any county ring in this? If so it is time the people hereabouts were apprised of the fact.

ELECTION OF POPE

Cardinals O'Connell and Gibbons have good reason to feel disappointed that they could not get to Rome in time to take part in the conclave, but it is not assumed that their participation would have changed the result. It is quite remarkable that the cardinal who was elected pope had never been suggested even as a remote possibility. He must have some very eminent qualities to recommend him and to bring him such distinction in spite of the fact that he has been but a few months a cardinal.

This, however, is the usual experience in the election of pope for the cardinal who stands out as eminently eligible in the eyes of the world, is seldom, if ever, elected. The promptness and harmony with which the new pope was chosen shows the imperishable character of the church. Popes may die or they may suffer calamities as many of them did in the past; but in every case a new pope will be chosen just as ready to make any sacrifice for the faith as any of those who have gone before.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—MRS. RENA DOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

HOME RULE BILL

On September 3, next Wednesday, the home rule for Ireland bill will be taken up in the British parliament and will undoubtedly be placed upon the statute book without delay.

It was supposed that the declaration of war against Germany would have caused the opposition to withdraw gracefully but the speech of Mr. Balfour shows that he and Mr. Carson still intend to oppose the measure. But it will be futile for them to do so as the bill will become law with the other great liberal measures which are still pending. The government would make a costly blunder if it failed to take the present opportunity of conciliating the Irish people.

LABOR DAY

Monday will be Labor day, a day devoted to the interests and enjoyment of the laboring classes in particular. This year the labor organizations wisely avoided the expense of a celebration inasmuch as there is a total absence of labor troubles aside from that of finding enough to do. It is to be hoped that the labor hosts will enjoy the day to the utmost whether in trips to the beach or to enjoy the transcendent grandeur of the woods now beginning to put on their autumnal splendors.

STREETS NOT WIDE ENOUGH
Since the arrival of the automobile in sufficient numbers to banish the horse, it appears that our streets are much too narrow. To make travel on our public streets safe and comfortable the streets should be very much wider and there should be large, open spaces at convenient points for the temporary parking of autos. At present there is great inconvenience in this respect, for when an auto stops on the street it is in somebody's way and there is no particular place in which it can get out of the way. The autos were unknown when the streets were laid out; but they should be provided for in all new streets.

Boston is keeping up its efforts to provide better fireproof construction in order to lessen the fire risks. The zigzag construction of Boston streets makes it more difficult to fight a bad fire in that city than almost anywhere else. But every other city as well as Boston has a duty to perform in lessening the fire hazards by promoting fireproof construction.

The removal of the seat of the French government from Paris to Bordeaux does not in any way indicate defeat or that the government is running away from its duty at Bordeaux. It will be in a better position to direct the war than it would be in Paris.

The reported landing of an army of 30,000 Russian soldiers in Scotland lets in some light upon the plan of campaign being worked out by the allies. It means a long struggle and an effort to isolate the German army in France.

THE SPELLBINDER

Having returned from his vacation, Commissioner Brown was in joking mood early this week and to a reporter of the Courier-Citizen he gave a story about calling a meeting of the Edison cemetery lot-owners for the purpose of discussing what shall become of the perpetual care fund which at present is drawing three per cent. interest when it should be drawing at least four per cent.

"We will talk this thing over from start to finish," said Mr. Brown, "and I have a statement to make which will tell the whole course of events with reference to the trust funds. I shall be perfectly willing to discuss the matter and to answer all questions."

"Every lot owner will know the city took care of his interests when the money was withdrawn. The money is intact and I will show that it was taken from the savings banks in good faith. I shall ask the lot owners if they want the funds invested in savings banks again, in city notes, or in any other way the law allows. And when we have taken a vote on the best way to proceed I shall do as the majority says."

Section 6 of chapter 3 of the city ordinances, as published in 1884, and which has never since been amended under changes of charter, reads as follows:

"The treasurer shall receive and have the care and custody of all sums of money paid by persons for the perpetual care of lots in any of the city cemeteries give the vouchers of the city treasurer, and moneys so received shall constitute a special fund to be known as the 'cemetery fund' for the perpetual care of lots."

"He shall notify the superintendent of the cemetery of all such payments, together with a description of the lots and graves on account of which such payments are made, and annually at such times as the trustees of public burial grounds request, shall pay over to them for their interest upon all sums so paid to and received by him. He shall invest the moneys of this fund in securities in which by law the funds of savings banks may be invested, and pay the amount of interest realized thereon into the city treasury."

The city treasurer, as will be seen by the foregoing, has full control over the perpetual care fund and may invest it as he sees fit regardless of what the municipal council, Commissioner Brown or the lot-owners may desire. He is under a bond of $35,000 (premium paid by the city), which protects the lot-owners in the event of misappropriation of the funds.

City Treasurer Stiles only a short time ago had a rather unpleasant experience as the result of doing the bidding of members of the city council in the past, for he was obliged to face a searching hearing that followed the discovery of the disappearance of the Huntington hall fund which was used to pay the expenses of city government of the past. Protected by the law, it is not likely that the treasurer will lay himself open again by listening to any high financiering schemes that may be developed at a meeting of the lot-owners or in the office of the commissioner of finance.

The John Davis Fund

It is probable too, that henceforth the library trustees will get their financial advice from another source, especially since they have learned that two or three lawyers were ready to institute injunction proceedings to restrain the municipal council from taking any part of the John Davis fund, should such an attempt be made. The library trustees, of which Mayor Murphy is a member, voted in regular meeting to loan the money to the city and are on record as having done so.

Thieves Beat the Germans

The burglars and thieves have it all over the German army for while the Germans are still miles away from the city the thieves have got right into the heart of the city of Lowell, despite the allied forces of Mayor Murphy and Supt. Welch and according to yesterday's papers added insult to injury by stealing from city hall itself. Some time ago they made bold enough to break into the public library and rifle a cash register. Getting away with they did, with characteristic success. Fortunately the theft occurred before one of the commissioners was around or we might have been startled by the announcement that one of the "Financial Five" had been kidnapped. The burglar who entered Dan Leary's dye house was caught, however, for which we are grateful to the Draught authorities.

Gorham Street Paving

At the opening of the year when money was appropriated for the paving of Gorham street, it memory serves us right, the estimate made at that time covered the cost of paving right up to the "railroad iron," as Commissioner Morse picturesquely described it, in other words to the crossing of the hill at Manchester street. Now it is understood that the work will stop at the overhead railroad bridge, some little distance below the point originally contemplated. Thus quite a balance should be left over in the Gorham street paving appropriation and again the city pays interest on money borrowed but not used.

The County Ring

History tells us that the Middlesex county ring, which is about to be punctured, for all time, is hoped, dates way back to 1856 and thus has had a continuous existence of 58 years, for we read in Cowley's History of Lowell, the following:

"From 1856 dates the present Lowell jail, constructed according to a design by James H. Rand. The cost of this handsome edifice was about $180,000. The senseless manner in which the county commissioners wasted the people's money on this jail brought about the 'ring' which has so long controlled our county affairs, into disrepute. But the power of this 'ring' still remains unbroken." The edition of Cowley's history from which the foregoing was taken was published in 1868 and thus the historian was complaining of the "ring" after 12 years' experience with it. But Judge Cowley, and nearly 50 years as well have passed on since then, but the "ring" is still on the job and will continue there until the voters of Middlesex arise in their might and smash it. Having held sway for half a century, the "ring" is pretty strongly entrenched, but even the Guardia knot was cut, and the first impression on the "ring" was made last year when Commissioner Barlow of this city was elected.

Although a brother republican he was not a "ring" republican, and hence Messrs. Gould and Williams combined against him and he has been little more than a figure-head, although his presence has had the one advantage of being a sort of restraining influence, on this closed corporation. And now Commissioner Gould comes before the voters for re-election after many years' service and his defeat means the complete annihilation of the "ring." Major Barnes of Newton is the republican contender for the place, but it is extremely doubtful if Commissioner Gould can be defeated in the primaries. It will remain for a democratic candidate to put the finishing touches on the "county ring," and hence it is incumbent upon the democrats of Middlesex to consider the list of candidates carefully before making a choice. The democratic candidates, by the way, are so numerous that one finds it impossible to recall all of them by name, off-hand. Two stand out prominently, however, Deputy Sheriff Welch of South Frammingham and Senator Charles McCarthy of Marlboro. The former in the event of his nomination will resign his position and give all his time to his campaign.

With Decided Emphasis
Excellent thugs appear to be getting exceedingly bold when they attempt highway robbery within the shadow of the home of Judge Enright, in Fletcher street. Some time ago when complaint was made about conditions prevailing at the north common at night, Supt. Welch is reported to have said that he didn't have enough men in his police department appropriation to permit him to patrol the common properly. There is a balance of $300 or more left over from the band concert appropriation which if transferred to the police department might pay the cost of a couple of supernumeraries for the common until such time as conditions improve. According to the Courier-Citizen, Supt. Welch stated with "decided emphasis," which probably means with a lot of vocal power, that the North common hold-up and several others mentioned in The Sun had not been reported to the police, but he did not state emphatically or otherwise that they didn't happen. Neither will the superintendent deny what Judge Enright and others have told him about conditions at the North common. If the superintendent hasn't money enough to give the city adequate protection, the public will back him up in any attempt he may make to get a sufficient amount.

Higs Good Water

Patrick Touhey of Albion street came into The Sun office a few days ago carrying a glass containing a spotted lizard, the size of a minnow which he said came through the faucet in his house while his son was running the water preparatory to taking a drink. Mr. Touhey stated that upon showing the lizard to Supt. Thomas of the water department and telling him that it was captured in Albion street, Mr. Thomas expressed great surprise that any such animal should be found in the water. He lived near Albion street, he said, but never had found anything of the kind in the city water. In fact he said the water at his house just then was very good. He questioned Mr. Touhey's judgment as to the species of the find, claiming that it was a little fish and not a lizard. Anyhow he expects that the general blow-out of the water mains tomorrow will remove all the foreign matter from the pipes, whether animal, vegetable or mineral.

MILITARY GOVERNOR OF PARIS SAYS NEWS WILL BE GIVEN OUT

FOUR AUSTRIAN ARMY CORPS OF 200,000 MEN PUT OUT OF ACTION

LONDON, Sept. 5.—10 a. m.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Petrograd in an account of the Russian operations under date of Thursday says:

Of the total Austrian forces in Galicia, probably 12 army corps, at least four army corps of 200,000 men have been practically put out of action anyhow for some time and 150 of their five hundred guns captured.

Russia is now able to detach considerable forces to Lublin and the prospect is that this will probably force the Austrian main army to fall back on the strong fortresses of Przemyśl and Cracow, whereby the Russians will recover those parts of Poland occupied through the Russian eastern part of Galicia up to the Carpathians.

It is reported that the Austrians are busy fortifying the hills near Gorodok, 17 miles west of Lemberg. This is a very strong position with its front on four lakes extending 12 miles north and south and it is probable that it is here that the remnants of the beaten Austrian army is concentrating.

CITY HALL NEWS

The $50,000 of the cemetery perpetuity fund will be invested in city or state bonds outside of Lowell and the commissioner of finance will get busy next week in conjunction with the city treasurer to invest the money. This was the decision taken by the members of the municipal council at a conference held this morning in the city's office.

All members were present at the conference which was held at 11.30 o'clock and after several suggestions had been offered as to the best way of investing the money, which is now on deposit at the Lowell Trust Co., it was decided to invest the $50,000 in city or state bonds and the commissioner of finance was instructed to go to Boston Tuesday and find out just how the market stands. This means that the meeting of the lot owners which was scheduled to be held Thursday at city hall will be called off.

IN POLICE COURT

Good Husband With Drink Habit Lectured by Court

A man who recently moved to this city with his wife and family of five children was charged with drunkenness. Previous to coming to Lowell the man was an ideal husband and father, but got to drinking hard on account of his inability to locate a good job here.

His wife told Judge Enright the whole story this morning. Liquor was the root of her husband's downfall, she said, for when he was sober he was good and kind to his family. Judge Enright gave the man a friendly lecture but warned him to keep out of barrooms in the future. He was released with a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction.

Withdrew Her Appeal

In watching the successful couple they saw a demonstration of dancing that was bewitching to look upon. The varying steps were glided through with a rhythmic grace that marks the premier dancers of Paris while the intricate evolutions which add so materially to the beauty of the modern style were carried through with a precision that stamped the winning couples as masters of their art.

GENERAL GALLIENI, VETERAN SOLDIER OF FRANCE, HEADS DEFENSE OF PARIS

"I will defend Paris to the end." Thus stated General Gallieni, military governor of Paris and head of the army of Paris, which was raised to defend the city from the Germans. He is one of France's famous soldiers. He becomes now the man of the hour. A veteran of the Franco-Prussian war and long retired from active service, he has answered his country's call and has been put in supreme command of the defenses of Paris. He knows more about the forts surrounding the city than any other living man. As a tactician he ranks high. If any one is fitted to defend Paris he is. At Senegal, on the upper Nile, and at Madagascar General Gallieni proved himself a masterful executive and plucky soldier.

CHEERFUL BUT ANGRY

Allied Forces Cannot Understand Necessity of Continued Retreat—Say "The More Germans You Kill the More There are of Them; but if We Ever Get Them in the Open It's Good Night"

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Co. at Ferreris, near Paris, sends the following:

"Our men, though cheerful are angry at the continued retreat. They don't understand the necessity for it. They are all amazed at the unending numbers of the Germans. They say: 'The more you kill of them the more there are of them; but if we ever get them in the open it's good night.'"

"The fighting along the line of the German advance has been incessant and desperate. I sold a horse the other day to an officer of dragons. I showed him the only horse I had for sale with the warning that the animal was not in the best condition."

Four Horses Shot Under Him

"'Hang it,' said the officer, 'he will last four days and that's about my average since the war began.' He already had had four horses shot under him."

"The war is very hard on the horses and the condition of some of the poor beasts which I've seen passing southward toward Paris would better not be described. Nevertheless, the army is still fit in every sense of the word and its transport is intact and fills the road with a column of motor vans nearly six miles long."

Country is Devastated

"Our soldiers are all right, but the people who we pity are the thousands of fugitives who have been swept up and blown away by the marching armies like chaff before the wind. The country through which the armies have passed is devastated. Dynamited bridges and tunnels mark the retreat of the allies and the villages mark advance of the Germans. The harvest is now almost in and the French would do well to destroy the crops themselves rather than leave it to the enemy."

"The weather has been splendid, bright hot days and perfect moonlight nights—ideal holiday weather. These nights of full moon have not been wasted by the Germans who move forward by night as well as by day. Many a kilometre has been gained on the road to Paris under the harvest moon, but for which the men would have been sleeping."

Germans Are in Great Hurry

"That the Germans are in a great hurry is evident. They advance regardless of risks and sacrifices, crush-

GERMANS ARE ADVANCING

Outpost Forts of Paris Now in Hands of Germans—Drive Allies Back Behind Conde

LONDON, Sept. 5.—11.55 p. m.—What has been described as the arrow-head of the German army, which has been slowly forcing its way through the Anglo-French armies toward Paris, has made further progress, according to the German official report issued today, and has now driven the allies back behind Conde.

LaFere has been captured without resistance, says the German statement and with the exception of (name deleted) which is now being attacked and Maubeuge, which the Germans have masked, the outpost forts are now in the hands of the invaders.

Cavalry raids, too, are being made in the direction of the Paris fortifications which will, if the German accounts are correct, be the next step of the allies' armies.

This news was a great disappointment here, where earlier official reports from Paris to the effect that the Germans had suffered a check near Verdun led to the hope that the advance had at last been stopped.

In Lorraine and the Vosges region, where the German forces were weakened to strengthen their right flank, the French appear to be holding their own, if not making an advance.

The allies take some consolation from the fact that the Russian defeat of the Austrians at Lemberg, which today has fallen into the hands of the Russians with its immense stock of war material and provisions apparently is complete. The possession of Lemberg gives the Russians a base from which they can work and from which they can attack in the rear the Austrian army which has been invading Russian territory.

In a battle lasting almost a fortnight the Austrians have suffered terrible losses, 12,000 having fallen in one place alone, while the Russians claim to have taken thousands of prisoners and 200 guns. The Austrian retreat, it appears from official advices, has been turned into a rout.

Belgium, which saw so many battles during the early stages of the war, is again the scene of fighting. German advices indicate that the Germans are completing a half circle around Antwerp.

Information has reached England that seven of the German destroyers which the British fleet engaged off Heligoland light and which escaped in a damaged condition when three cruisers and two destroyers were sunk have reached Kiel. Others were badly injured that they went down before reaching refuge.

Besides the Prince of Wales fund for the relief of the dependents of soldiers either killed or wounded for those who have been thrown out of work through the war, Queen Mary

'13 Token of Supremacy to be Raised at Spalding Park Monday

The management of the local baseball club is making great preparations for the raising of the 1913 pennant at Spalding park next Monday afternoon and from all appearances the fans are also looking forward to the event with anticipation. For the time being the Lowell club of this season will be forgotten while the deeds of the team which won the last year's flag will be refreshed in memory.

Without doubt the Lowell team of last season was the greatest aggregation of ball players gotten together in this league in many years. It was a wonderful organization of diamond stars and Monday afternoon will be dedicated to their memory while last year's pennant flutters in the breeze on its way up the tall flagstaff.

Even Mayor Murphy has become imbued with the spirit. Last night his Honor went down by Secretary John Cull the following article for the newspaper:

"In view of the great success attained by the Lowell baseball club during the season of 1913, winning the championship of the New England league and the post-season series from the Hartford club of the Eastern association, I deem it proper at this time to state that it is the duty of every lover of the national game to attend the pennant raising at Spalding park on Monday and show by their presence their approval of this wholesome and clean sport."

Lowell, who recognizes the importance of keeping alive interest in our national sport, I trust that all who can do so, will attend the pennant raising and encourage the efforts of those who provide wholesome amusement during the summer months."

ARRIVED FROM IRELAND

Mr. Thade Quinn Tells of Conditions There—Carson Severely Snubbed by Lord Kitchener

Mr. Thade A. Quinn, brother of Joseph P. Quinn, of The Sun editorial staff, arrived in Lowell from Ireland yesterday, accompanied by a younger brother, Michael. Mr. Quinn left Lowell for a visit to Ireland and returned on the White Star Line steamer Arabia which landed in Boston Thursday.

Mr. Quinn relates some very interesting incidents of the voyage, the chief feature of which was the terror among the passengers lest the steamer should be attacked by a German warship. In the daytime the passengers kept a continuous watch out for any vessel on the horizon and as soon as a sail or a mast or a coil of smoke appeared rising from a vessel in the distance, the word went around the decks that a warship was in sight. This was a signal for everybody to rush to the upper deck in order to get a good look at the vessel in the offing and to ascertain whether it was really a warship or a third class passenger vessel like the Arabia.

In spite of the eager outlook by the passengers no cruiser or warship of any of the belligerent powers was sighted. Neither was the steamer escorted by British cruisers as was the case with several other steamers which started a few days earlier.

Mr. Quinn had considerable criticism of the treatment accorded the passengers by the officers of the steamer. He said that hundreds of them were crowded into the steerage who had paid for better quarters and that the inferior officers offered sleeping berths to passengers on payment of certain amounts but although in a considerable number of cases the money was paid the promised berths were not provided. A protest was lodged with the purser who compelled the officers who had collected money in this way to return it to the passengers.

All Support Redmond

Speaking of conditions in Ireland, Mr. Quinn states that the people are practically unanimous in support of Mr. Redmond's policy on the home rule question and all are confident that the bill will become law in the near future. There is widespread interest in the volunteer movement and the Nationalist Volunteers are prepared to defend Ireland against possible invasion. The work of drafting first, second and third reserves had started in Ireland before Mr. Quinn's departure and a large number of such men had left for France. He does not believe that the Nationalist Volunteers will go to the front as a body although many of them may enlist individually.

Carson Snubbed by Kitchener

Mr. Quinn states that Sir Edward Carson has lost whatever influence he had even with the Unionists, on account of his causing so much trouble for the government and the country by threatening revolution in Ireland. It is stated that after Lord Kitchener was placed at the head of the war department, Sir Edward paid him a visit and offered to have a majority of the Ulster Volunteers go to the front, if the home rule bill were withdrawn. It is reported that Carson refused the severe snub from Lord Kitchener who expressed his surprise that men who claim a monopoly of patriotism and loyalty in Ireland should demand a

TURKEY MOBILIZES TROOPS TO THROW HER PART OF WORLD IN WAR TURMOIL

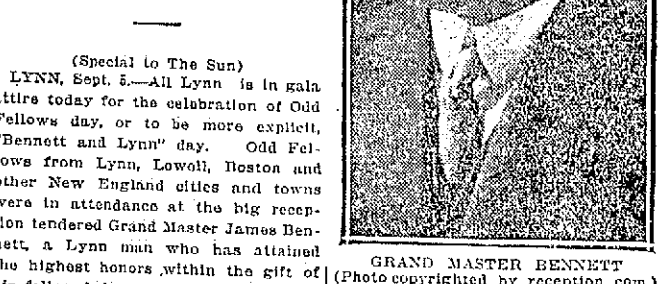

Turkey, which has mobilized her troops on a war basis, has an army of 400,000 in time of peace, with 300,000 reserves. She has 2,000,000 unorganized men available for war duty if needed. It is reported that Turkey has now a better army than when she was defeated in the Balkan war and driven almost entirely out of Europe. It was expected that she would throw her lot with Germany and Austria in the present war.

ODD FELLOWS' DAY AT LYNN

Grand Master James Bennett Given a Big Reception

Many Prominent Odd Fellows in the Receiving Line

(Special to The Sun)

LYNN, Sept. 5.—All Lynn is in gala attire today for the celebration of Odd Fellows day, or to be more explicit, "Bennett and Lynn" day. Odd Fellows from Lynn, Lowell, Boston and other New England cities and towns were in attendance at the big reception tendered Grand Master James Bennett, a Lynn man who has attained the highest honors within the gift of his fellow lodge members in the state. The Lowell lodges were represented by Capt. H. B. Kittredge, Kenneth E. Pelton and Herbert Riddick. The reception was held early in the evening shortly after the parade was over and immediately preceding the banquet. Mr. Bennett was congratulated on all sides by his friends and fellow members for having been so highly honored by the largest fraternal body in the state. In the receiving line beside Grand Master Bennett, was the grand sire of the sovereign grand lodge, Charles A. Kellar of Texas and wife; J. Herbert Simpson of Winthrop who became deputy grand master on Mr. Bennett's promotion; Grand Secretary George H. Fuller of Boston; Grand Instructor William Webber of Boston; Zeke W. Lewis of Brockton, major general of the grand canton, Patriarchs Millant; Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment Bert J. Wilmore; Mrs. Ellen M. Bart of Worcester, president of the State Rebekah assembly; Mayor George H. Newell and the members of the municipal council, and many guests from abroad accompanied by their wives. The local reception committee of which Milton H. Thrasher chairman had charge of the arrangements for the reception to Mr. Bennett as well as for the parade and banquet. Mr. Thrasher is perhaps best known as an Odd Fellow in the state, for his work in the order as noble grand of East Lynn lodge, which in 1912 elicited the admiration of the

The chairman of the playground committee, Mr. Rountree made a report of the closing season and said everything had been very satisfactory to the committee. He moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the supervisors for their work and at the suggestion of Mr. Carr the vote was extended to all who helped the good work along including the Middlesex Women's club and the College club.

Prior to the closing of the meeting Mr. Carr spoke of his campaign for funds for the playground and said it had been a failure. He said there is a sum of $105 deposited at the bank and there are many outstanding bills and he asked the members of the board for their signatures in order to be able to draw out the money to pay the bills. The members agreed to give him their signatures but as individuals and not as members of the board. Adjourned.

Thomas E. Jenckay was elected chairman of the board on motion of Commissioner Weed, who qualified yesterday afternoon at the city clerk's office. Mr. Weed had been appointed to the board last June, but did not qualify until yesterday.

Mr. W. A. Reed of New York city is visiting his people of Westford street and he, with his mother, Mrs. S. Z. Reed, and his son, Randolph B., also Mr. and Mrs. James Goodchild, have just returned from a month's stay at Ocean Park, Me.

BERLIN REPORTS ALLIES FORCED TO RETREAT BEHIND CONDE

London Claims Losses of Allies 41,000 and Germans 200,000—Arrow Head of German Army Makes Further Progress—Allies Cheered by Russian Victories

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The outpost forts of Paris are now in the hands of the Germans, according to the German official report issued today.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Gisors, a French town, estimates the total losses of the allies at 41,000 and the losses of the Germans at 200,000.

Sheer weight of numbers has pushed the Germans forward at the amazing rate of 25 miles a day, the correspondent adds. The Germans have shown no superiority in artillery or transport. The rapidity of their advance has been due largely to their use of the automobile for transportation.

The British commissariat has perfected the following menu for each man on the firing line:

Daily, a pound of bread with cheese and jam, a pound and a quarter of bacon, a pound and a quarter of beef with tea and rum; two ounces of tobacco weekly.

LONDON SAYS ALLIES SLOWLY GIVING GROUND BEFORE GERMAN ADVANCE

LONDON, Sept. 5, 1.30 p. m.—The first great climax of the campaign of the allies against Germany waged so relentlessly for weeks past in northern France will not now be long delayed, according to opinion in London.

The first official communication from Bordeaux, the new seat of the French government, speaks of the German movement on Paris as having been diverted to the eastward, in which direction the invaders have reached La Fère-Sous-Jourais, some 30 miles east of Paris. This would seem to confirm the German announcement that the allies have been driven back to and in some cases across the River Marne.

According to other sources of information, the German troops are much nearer Paris than has been indicated officially. They are said to be within a few miles of Chantilly, 20 miles north of the capital.

The German general staff has been moved from Brussels to Mons, Belgium, near the scene of operations and Austrian soldiers would appear to have been brought from Lorraine to the western theatre of the war to fill the enormous gaps in the ranks of their German allies.

Conflicting news despatches and vague official statements leave the fortunes of the immense armies struggling before Paris today a matter of conjecture.

All accounts agree, however that the movement is approaching swiftly when the French capital must have to resort to its own defenses. Despite occasional temporary successes of the allies, their line appears to be slowly giving ground before the German advance. The Germans in the form of a semi-circle seem to have reached points east and west of Paris, their left wing touching La Fère-Sous-Jourais in the department of Seine-et-Marne.

The exact position of the German right wing is not revealed but so far as known it has not succeeded in getting around the allies' left formed by British troops.

A Rome despatch says that five German army corps have arrived at the Vistula river to support the German defense against the Russian invaders of East Prussia. The Russian general staff claims that its victorious army in Galicia is sweeping the Austrians before it.

Further fighting is reported at Termonde, 16 miles east of Ghent, suggesting that the Belgian forces from Antwerp have again entered the fray.

There is no additional news regarding the Russian troops reported as having been landed at Ostend from British transports.

The Servians claim that the Austrians left 30,000 dead after the battle of Jadar and that the Servians left 30,000 dead after the battle of Jadar and that the Servians captured 4800 prisoners.

An official statement issued at Paris this afternoon says the Germans continue to leave Paris on their right and to march in a southeasterly direction. BRITISH SOLDIERS SUPPLIED AMERICAN REFUGEES WITH BED CLOTHING

LONDON, Sept. 5.—According to Mrs. Charles Hightower of New York, several hundred American refugees encamped on the docks of Havre would have been without shelter had it not been for the kindness of British soldiers, who supplied them with mattresses, chairs and blankets and sheltered them under an open shed and army rations for breakfast. Mrs. Hightower came with a party of Americans who left Paris at noon yesterday.

STATE DEPARTMENT HAS NO OFFICIAL PROTEST OF ALLEGED BREACH OF NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—State department officials reiterated today that they had heard only through news despatches of the protests by the German ambassador Count Bernstorff against the furnishing of supplies to British cruisers or the use of wireless to British ships from American shores.

Officials said they could not understand why their attention had not been formally called to the alleged violations of neutrality. The German ambassador was quoted as saying yesterday that he had complained to Secretary Bryan.

PARIS REPORTS GERMAN MAKING EXTENDED TURNING MOVEMENT

PARIS, Sept. 5.—It has become apparent to observers here that the Germans do not intend to engage the allied armies sent to meet them north-west of Paris. The enemy evidently is making an extended turning movement.

LONDON POST SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD APPOINT WAR CORRESPONDENTS

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Post today publishes a number of letters from correspondents expressing satisfaction at its publication of the wireless despatches from Berlin on the ground that although they are doubtless exaggerated they give the best available information while the French and English governments withhold all news.

Another correspondent proposes that if the government cannot see its way to allow war correspondents at the front they should themselves appoint reliable correspondents to give the public accounts of the fighting.

GERMANS WHO CROSSED RHINE TO ATTACK BELFORT UNSUCCESSFUL

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A despatch to the Evening News from Basel, Switzerland, declares that the German troops which crossed the Rhine to attack Belfort have not carried out this intention, owing to the urgent demand for effective troops in East Prussia. Only a covering force has been left before Belfort.

BORDEAUX, NEW GOVERNMENT SEAT OF FRANCE CROWDED

BORDEAUX, Sept. 5.—This city has become overcrowded through the arrival of members of the government foreign legion, newspapermen and travelers. The hotels, restaurants and the street cars are packed with people. Rooms in the principal hotels have been requisitioned for the use of officials.

WOMAN KILLED

In Auto Accident—Occupants Thrown Over Stone Wall

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 5.—Mrs. George K. Withrow of King street, Dorchester, Mass., was instantly killed and Miss Nellie E. Johnson and Mr. James Johnson, her father, seriously and perhaps fatally injured in an automobile accident which happened at 11.30 o'clock this morning while the machine was ascending a steep incline known as Head Hill between Suncook and Hooksett, a few miles from this city.

In the front seat were George K. Withrow, husband of the dead woman, at the steering wheel and George F. Johnson of Jamaica Plain. Neither of the latter was thrown from the car or injured in any way. The automobile had been put under third speed to make the grade when a rear tire blew out and skidded into the gutter. There it struck a rock with such force as to throw the occupants of the rear seat clear of the machine over a stone wall into the field beyond.

Mrs. Withrow's head was crushed by a rock on which she fell and she died instantly. Miss Johnson suffered severe cuts and abrasions and was internally injured and rendered unconscious. Mr. Johnson, her father, had a leg broken and sustained minor injuries. He and his daughter were hurried to the Margaret Pillsbury hospital at Concord, N. H.

cars of the government and the usual occupants forced to vacate.

All roads leading to Bordeaux are filled with every sort of conveyance. The staffs of the embassies have located at Arcachon a popular summer resort, 35 miles southwest of this city.

All the local newspapers mention with pride the honor conferred upon Bordeaux in being selected as the temporary seat of the government.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT DENTIES THAT DUM DUM BULLETS HAD BEEN FOUND ON PRISONERS

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The British government today made official denial to the German charges that dum dum bullets had been found on English and French prisoners. The statement to this effect is as follows:

"Neither the British nor the French army had in its possession or has issued any but approved patterns of rifle and revolver ammunition which do not infringe in any respect the provisions of the Hague convention."

DESPATCHES SAY THAT CITY OF BRUSSELS IS EXTREMELY QUIET

LONDON, Sept. 5, 11.15 p. m.—A despatch to the Reuters Telegram and from Ostend, Belgium, says that advice received there from Brussels represents that city as extremely quiet, as most of the German army of occupation has been sent to the vicinity of Termonde, where fighting is going on.

A high German officer lying wounded in a hospital is quoted in Brussels as having told his attending surgeon that the German army, in his opinion, would lose three-quarters of its effective force before capturing Paris.

Unnamed German prince is reported to have succumbed to his wounds.

GERMANS THROWING TROOPS BACK EASTWARD TO MEET RUSSIAN ADVANCE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A despatch to the Daily News from Copenhagen, dated Friday, says:

"Berlin despatches indicate that the Germans are throwing troops back eastward to meet Russia's advance."

The president of the German military staff controlling the railroads, stated that the principal lines will close for the present so that on the German section the main communication between Scandinavian countries and the continent via Danzig and Warnemunde is again shut down. All the railroad stock is now wanted for moving a large number of troops to the eastward.

Further indications are that the points the troops are being withdrawn from are Alsace and Lorraine. "All the German railroads now are closed to civil traffic and land communication from Berlin and Copenhagen is stopped."

BRITISH PASSENGER SHIP TO THIS COUNTRY WILL CARRY NO GUNS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—British authorities have directed that British passenger ships plying between England and the United States carry no guns. Orders to that effect have been received at the embassy.

LOWELL TRIMS LEWISTON IN FIRST GAME OF DOUBLE HEADER

Terry McGovern brought his Lowell ball tossers to Lowell to line up against the Grays in a double header this afternoon. The weather conditions favored both fans and players and a fair sized gathering of spectators journeyed to Spaulding park to witness the game.

A youngster named Stevens, a semi-pro from Quincy, made his appearance in the outfield in preliminary practice, and looked good to the spectators. His fielding was fast and his throwing good, and the comment heard was favorable to the new arrival.

Brignolia and Casey constituted the visiting battery while Lohman and Wacob worked for the home outfit. The umpire was Toss Kelley. The first game started promptly at 2 o'clock.

made a swell catch of McCleskey's fly in short right. Fahey went out on a long drive to Maloney. One run, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 5, Lewiston 0.

Fifth Inning

Shen was a victim on strikes. Mundy struck out also. Cobb's grounder to McCleskey was useless for Mae's peek to Kelley nailed him. It was a short half inning.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Donovan, sometimes called Pooch, and otherwise known as Kid went on the first base coaching line in the last half of the fifth. His appearance was greeted by prolonged cheers from the bleachers. Stimpson went out on a grounder to Thomas but Dee singled to left center and took second on Kelley's one base knock to right. Young Donovan next stepped to the plate and poked a grounder to Phoenix on which Kelley was fired at second while Dee went to third. Dee was thrown out at the plate on an attempted double steal.

No runs, 3 hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 5, Lewiston 0.

Sixth Inning

Lohman had a fit of wildness and passed Brignolia, but Briggs was out on a force play at second when Maloney hit to Dee. McCleskey's peg to Kelley was wide and Maloney went to second. Thomas' bat thrice split the summer zephyrs. Judge lifted a high one to Stimpson in left field.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Wacob led off the second half of the sixth with a savage single to left. Casey made a great catch of Lohman's low foul fly. Swayne forced Wacob at second with a grounder to Thomas. Judge made a beautiful stop and a recovery of McCleskey's hard smash, making the put out at first unassisted.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 5, Lewiston 0.

Seventh Inning

Lohman scooped Phoenix's grounder for a put out at first and Fahey then contributed two nice plays when he threw out both Casey and Shen on hard chances.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Thomas' throw on Fahey's grounder just beat out the Lowell third baseman. Shea took Stimpson's boost to short center. Thomas and Judge were the performers on Dee's put out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 5, Lewiston 0.

Eighth Inning

Dee scooted out into short center and under Mundy's fly. Lohman and Kelley extinguished Cobb. Lohman again walked Brignolia. Maloney singled through the box sending Brignolia to second. McCleskey grabbed Thomas' fly and Lowell went to bat.

No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Kelley beat out a hit to Cobb. Donovan struck out. It was the first time the Kid failed to hit the ball since his appearance in a Lowell uniform. Kelley then stole second. Wacob scored Kelley with a single to left center. Lohman reached first when Phoenix booted his grounder. Swayne fled out to Thomas. McCleskey grounded out to Phoenix to Judge.

One run, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 6, Lewiston 0.

Ninth Inning

Judge fanned. Phoenix went out on a line drive to McCleskey. Casey fled to McCleskey.

Final score: Lowell 6, Lewiston 0.

A DESPERATE RESISTANCE

Capture of Halicz by Russians a Harder Task Than Capture of Lemberg, Says Petrograd

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A. m.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Post describing the Russian advance on Lemberg, says:

"The Austrians were concentrating two more army corps toward the east of their position to face the Russian Kiev district army but the Russians attacked before the concentration was completed.

"On Wednesday morning the Russians will be established all around the northern, eastern and half of the southern face of the capital. Lemberg stands high above the surrounding country, its obsolete defenses being supplemented by modern entrenchments.

It would seem that the route of the Austrian army, whose double duty it was to cover Lemberg and also the right flank of the Russian forces in Poland was so absolute that the Russians must have entered Lemberg at the heels of the runaways far at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Lemberg was entirely in Russian possession. The military stores of every kind, explosives, powder magazines, complete wireless and telegraph installations—

WAR MAY REACH EGYPT

Turkey's Action May Also Involve Greece, Balkans, Italy, Caucasus, Persia and India

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Intimations have come to many European diplomats in Washington that hostilities may be extended not only to Italy and the Balkans, should Turkey enter the field, but to the Caucasus, Persia, Egypt and India as well. In such an event the presence of Japanese troops and fleets in western Asia, particularly to assist England in either India or Persia, would not be surprising, according to diplomats representing the allied powers.

While Japan has confined her present operations against Germany to the China coast and the China Seas, the spirit of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, it was said, might lead her, after consultation with Great Britain, to extend a helping hand to her ally elsewhere in Asia.

Ernest Hey, the Turkish ambassador here, made public a cablegram from his government, which he interpreted as "conclusive evidence" of the port's intention to remain neutral, but his views were not shared by diplomats representing the allies. The latter are confident that Turkey is merely delaying an announcement of her intention while completing military preparations. The Turkish ambassador's cablegram was as follows:

"By virtue of the neutrality we have declared, the military authorities have received orders to insure by every means possible the entire security of merchant vessels of the belligerent nations taking refuge in our ports."

The ambassador showed Secretary Bryan the message, assuring him also that Americans would be safe.

"There is no danger whatever to Americans and there need be no fear on that subject," said the secretary afterwards.

The ambassador admitted later that if Turkey entered the conflict on the side of Germany and Austria, she would make her operations as extensive as possible in British and Russian possessions. He thought it not unlikely in such an event that Egypt might be invaded. He felt certain Bulgaria would stand by Turkey, but referred to Roumania as an unknown quantity.

Greece's Army Mobilized
Greece, it is known, has her army mobilized, ready to strike at Turkey on land and sea.

While Turkey is delaying action, the allies are surveying the field, it is believed, looking forward to joint operations with Japan in the Persian Gulf, while the Mediterranean fleet of the allies direct their attention to Turkish ports on the western coast of Asia Minor.

The situation, it is believed, already has caused Japan to consult Great Britain as to possible assistance in

BIG COTTON TRADE BOOM

Because of the War—U.S. Bureau Agent Looks to See Mills Running Overtime

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—As a result of conditions brought about by the European war, a boom in cotton spinning and the manufacture of cotton spinning machinery in this country is likely, according to Erwin W. Thompson, commercial agent of the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Mr. Thompson, who is on a visit to Boston, thinks there is a prospect that China and Japan will take more cotton, but finds more interest in the indications that the United States will take more of the crop for its own manufacturing. He looks to see all of the mills in this country tuning up to full capacity before long and the possibility of putting on night shifts in the north.

Southern Mills Running Steady
The mills of the south are run night and day as a common feature of the business, thereby enabling each plant to use half as many spindles and consequently the same decrease in capital. These mills would increase the number of spindles and continue the night crews, while the north in production would be nearly doubled by introducing 24-hour schedules.

America produces 15,000,000 bales of cotton annually, Mr. Thompson pointed out, and exports 9,000,000. In order to take up the amount of bales exported he estimates that we would have to double the present spindle capacity.

Mr. Thompson says, however, that this country needs salesmen, rather than advice, to go into markets abroad and dispose of the great crop and increase production of cotton goods. He alludes to those conditions only to say that most persons do not realize that the mills of Europe are operated in that capacity at the Richmond, Va., Y. W. C. A. Miss Washburn completed the special six weeks' course for physical directors at the National Training school of the association.

A new floor has been laid in the gymnasium and other improvements made in the building, including the remodeling of the large living room. The dining-room is to be an especial feature, and is to open next Tuesday. The kitchen has been equipped in the most up-to-date manner and the dining-room is most commendable in the facilities for quick, clean and altogether satisfactory service.

HUMAN FOOT UNEARTHED
San Antonio, Texas, District Attorney Believes It Evidence in the Innes Murder Charge
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 5.—Part of a human foot, which Dist. Atty. W. C. Linder claims to have found yesterday in a cesspool near the house of Mrs. and Mrs. Victor E. Innes of Eugene, Ore., occupied here last June, and bones found in the same place Thursday, were turned over to the city chemist last night for examination.

Innes and his wife are in jail here charged with murder and being an accessory before the fact, respectively, in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Ellos Nelms Dennis and her sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms of Atlanta.

That Weak Back
accompanied by pain here or there—extreme nervousness—sleeplessness—may be faint spells—or spasms—all are signals of distress for a woman. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood—passing from womanhood to motherhood—or later suffering from that change into middle life which leaves so many weak of women. At any or all of these periods of a woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women.

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription
has successfully treated more cases in past forty years than any other known remedy. It can now be had in sugar-coated, tablet form as well as in the liquid. Sold by medicine dealers or trial box by mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps.

Miss Elizabeth Lordahl of Berkeley, Cal., in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce said: "I was completely broken down in health. I was pale and thin and my body and soul were so weak that I could scarcely get up. I had never had an occasion to consult a physician since—am in excellent health."

BIG EUROPEAN ORDER FOR AM. WOOLEN CO.

The Sun has been informed on what seems to be good authority that the Boston office of the American Woollen company has received an order for woollen fabrics from Europe of sufficient size to keep all the plants of this company running steadily for the next two years.

It is not stated from what particular source the order comes, but we are informed that already negotiations for financing the project are being carried on through the leading banks of Montreal. If the company receives this large contract Lowell will share in the prosperity that it will bring to the various mills of the concern in this vicinity.

An official of the company queried by telephone from The Sun office today stated that he had not heard of any such order being received although, he said, it might be in the hands of the head officials in Boston. The nature of the order may cause the company to preserve secrecy in regard to the European parties who are behind it.

NEW POPE FOR PEACE TWO CHILDREN KILLED

SAID TO HAVE STATED THAT PONTIFF MUST ACTUALLY PLACE HIMSELF AMONG COMBATANTS

ROME, Sept. 4.—8.50 p. m.—Via Paris, Sept. 5. It was related here today that in conversations before his election, Pope Benedict XV. repeatedly expressed the necessity that the pontiff should intervene with an appeal for peace, not in a purely evangelical form, but in a precise diplomatic action.

"The pope," he is quoted as saying, "must actually place himself amidst the combatants instead of keeping away and preaching peace and concord from a distance." It is asserted that these ideas were expressed in the conclaves with Genoa tenacity but at the same time showing such absolute neutrality toward the belligerents that it caused the majority to elect him pontiff.

MONKEY WASN'T ABUSED

Agent Richardson, of the Lowell Humane society, was a busy man this afternoon looking after the welfare of a certain monkey which came to town today with his master, a foreigner. It seems that the agent received several complaints by telephone to the effect that the man was abusing the monkey. Mr. Richardson followed the man around for several hours and finally decided that the complaints were unfounded. When asked if he was being abused the monkey shook his head. That settled it.

Mr. John H. Murphy, secretary of the Lowell board of trade, and Mrs. Murphy, have returned from a pleasant trip up the Hudson river.

LONDON, Sept. 5 (5.03 p. m.)—A despatch to the Central News from Copenhagen says:

"Information has reached here that six hundred Japanese students from German universities have been captured on the Dutch-German frontier and imprisoned."

RUSSIANS SURROUND AUSTRIANS AT LUBLIN

LONDON, Sept. 5 (2 p. m.)—The Rome correspondent of The Evening Star telegraphs:

"A despatch from Vienna says that the Russians have surrounded the Austrians at Lublin, Russian Poland. The Germans who were rushed from Belgium to reinforce the Austrians arrived too late."

PAYMENT OF BELGIAN WAR CONTRIBUTIONS

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 5.—The Berliner Tageblatt announces that Dr. Karl Helfferich, director of the Deutschbank and Dr. Paul von Swabach, head of the Bleichroder, firm, who are serving as reserve officers in cuirassier regiment have been appointed to attend to the arrangement for payment of Belgian war contributions.

It is recalled that Bismarck in 1871 employed the then head of the Bleichroder firm as financial expert in connection with the French war indemnity.

RUSSIA WILL LAUNCH 20 CORPS AGAINST GERMANY

LONDON, Sept. 5 (5.50 a. m.)—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Rome contains a message from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) in which a high Russian military official is quoted as follows:

"When the war began Austria was our most serious enemy because except for four army corps sent against Serbia her entire army was directed against us."

"Now that Serbia has annihilated four Austrian corps at Shabatz and we have decisively defeated 200,000 men between the Vistula and the Dnieper, ten Russian army corps are sufficient to hold the Austrians in check, leaving us 20 corps free to launch against Germany."

ENGLISH PUBLIC IS HUNGRY FOR NEWS OF WAR—SO ARE OTHERS

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The English public, hungry for news of the operations of the allied armies in the western theatre of the war, has today to content itself with the brief official communications issued from Paris and Bordeaux. These only whet the appetite. Military experts believe that the Germans are preparing for a grand assault upon Paris in the hope of battering down the defenses of the capital. This is because the investment of Paris while the huge mobile army of the allies is outside the city would not appear to be a logical part of the swift German campaign.

News of the withdrawal of German troops toward Prussia further is generally credited here for the reason that with their supreme effort on the west as a primary object the Germans are hardly likely to weaken their forces.

Belgian Resumes Activities
News from northern Belgium indicates that the Belgian troops are recovering from the gruelling punishment inflicted upon them by the German invaders and are resuming their activities.

In some quarters the belief prevails that the German plans of campaign may be radically changed by the Austrian disasters but in spite of the most observers are of the opinion that Germany must continue her remorseless advance in the west without considering the misfortunes of her ally. These misfortunes are now admitted by Vienna, whence news has come of official admission that the Russians have captured both Lemberg and Halicz.

The Petrograd war office now estimates that the Russian victories in Galicia and the Serbian victory at Jadar have so crippled the forces of the dual monarchy that only ten Russian army corps are needed to keep Austria in check. This releases 20 corps for the invasion of Germany.

If Paris falls the effect already has been more or less discounted in London as the war office has managed to convey the impression to the public that the capture of the French capital means only the prolongation of the war.

This phase of the situation brought home to the British public by a questionably stimulated recruiting. There is no indication that the allies in the west intend to assume the aggressive. On the other hand the indications are that if the Germans capture Paris every effort will be made to render it a barren triumph by leading the Germans from position to position in a series of rear guard actions until the invaders are exhausted.

The first official communication from the new capital of France at Bordeaux indicates the failure of a German flank-

BIG GOLF MATCH

Quimet One up Over Travers at End of First Round in Finals

MANCHESTER, Vt., Sept. 5.—Francis Quimet of the Woodland, Massachusetts, Golf club, the 1913 open champion, was one up over the amateur champion, Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., at the end of the first round in the finals for the national amateur golf championship on the Ekwanok links today.

Quimet gave his followers a bad hour and a half during the morning round by missing five easy putts in the first 12 holes. He more than redeemed himself in the last six holes when he played the 13th on under par and the remainder in par figures.

Travers was two up at the turn but was four times off on his drives and was trapped twice, the last time being on the 18th hole, where his fallowing gave Quimet the lead for the round.

Quimet began his poor putting on the first, where he missed a three-foot putt. He followed it with another at the fourth, a third at the fifth and one more at the ninth. In the meantime Travers, although somewhat wild on his long shots, was very steady on the greens.

Quimet won the tenth when Travers sent his second into the round but lost the 11th by being trapped. Quimet had a fine chance to take the 12th but missed his fifth short putt.

At the 13th, which is 203 yards, Quimet can down a 15-foot putt, for a two and the hole, which left him one down. The next three holes were played by both in par figures, but at the 17th Travers pulled his drive into a bunker and was just out in his second.

He made a brave effort to run down a long putt for a four, but missed and Quimet, still playing perfect golf squared the match. On the last hole Travers was again trapped, took two more to get back onto the fair green and reached the green in four shots to two for Quimet.

FAMOUS HOTEL DESTROYED

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 5.—The Hotel Appleboro on Appleboro island, Isles of Shoals ten miles from the mainland was destroyed by fire today. Several cottages were also burned.

Telephone communication with the mainland was broken and the details of the fire could not be obtained until the return to this city of steamers that had gone to the island with firefighting apparatus. It was believed that the loss would approximate $150,000. The hotel, which was to have closed for the season this week, had a capacity of 500 guests.

PALMER HEADS G. A. R.

IOWA MAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE VETERANS—WASHINGTON, D. C. NEXT ENCAMPMENT

DETROIT, Sept. 5.—Comrade Duval J. Palmer of Washington, D. C., member of the Eighth and Twenty-fifth Iowa regiments in the Civil war, was yesterday elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, at the closing session of the 48th national encampment which has been in session here a week.

Washington, D. C. was unanimously chosen for the encampment place next year.

Although there were several candidates in the race for commander-in-chief, most of them withdrew at the last minute and Mr. Palmer had no serious opposition.

Other officers elected were: Senior vice-commander-in-chief: J. B. Griswold of Grand Rapids.

Junior vice-commander-in-chief: T. W. Connors of Dallas, Texas.

Chaplain-in-chief: Orville J. Nave of California.

After the election, the installation of the new officers took place and several other appointive offices were filled.

A committee of past commanders-in-chief was appointed yesterday to frame a congressional bill, providing for the retention of all Civil war veterans in public employment, irrespective of their age. The resolution providing for the appointment of the committee was received with much applause by the aged soldiers. Another resolution adopted unanimously opposed any change in the national flag.

One death and one man said to be dying was the toll of the encampment up to last night. A veteran thought to be Henry Davis of Charlotte, Mich., dropped dead on the street yesterday, and John Marshall of Lima, Ohio, an sick yesterday, was not expected to recover. His relatives have been notified.

TRAINING COLLEGE FOR MEN TEACHERS

The state board of education is planning a training school for men teachers to be established at Worcester. Up to the present there seems to have been an impression in some quarters that only the women required training for the teaching profession while proof that a man had graduated from some college or university seemed to be accepted as prima facie evidence of his ability to teach. If the state board can overcome this fallacy and expose its harmful effect on the whole public school system, it will render an invaluable service to the cause of education throughout the commonwealth.

The state normal schools are attended only by young women preparing for work in primary and grammar grades while the principals of grammar schools and all the teachers in high schools are required to be college graduates. Hence it appears that with the exception of some female teachers who have taken special courses, very few high school teachers and still fewer principals of grammar schools have had any training for the business.

We have not yet risen fully above the old idea that if a man who has been to college fails in every other line of business, he can take to school teaching. Is it any wonder that so many briefless lawyers, so many unsuccessful doctors, so many men who are unable to earn a living in any other way, are found engrafted on the school system in which their defective work is shielded by politics or approved by people who are not competent to judge. The people who have to pay the teachers, and who do really pay for the best, are thus imposed upon but they have no redress.

In our own city for example, when a vacancy for grammar master occurs the school board does not look for a man who has had any special training to fit him for such a position. All it asks is, whether the candidate is a college graduate and whether morally he is a man fit to be placed in charge of children. There is really no insistence upon his having any special qualification for the position either in reference to his ability to teach or to govern.

What is the result? If he be a man of tact, he sets to work to study methods of teaching, but he learns mainly from the well trained and experienced teachers in charge of the various grades. In time he may become a valuable man; but it is a well known fact that some principals never make much progress and never reach the degree of proficiency necessary to success.

In the classrooms of high schools throughout the state it is easy also to find many misfit teachers, because they have never had any training for the work in which they are engaged. Many of them do not understand the first principles of the art of teaching and as a result they are unable to get down to the level of their classes, to give clear explanations or to invest the subject in hand with that degree of interest which commands the attention and controls the will of the pupils.

It is to remedy this state of affairs and to give Massachusetts the best equipped teachers to be found in the country, that the state board of education through Commissioner Suedden, has planned to provide a course suitable for the proper training of men for the teaching profession. Without knowing the details of the plan, we presume that it will provide a substitute for a college course, giving special attention to the art of teaching and its kindred branches. Boys who have prepared for college at a high school might enter such a school to fit themselves for the teaching profession just as they might go to a law school or a medical school to enter either of these professions, with this difference however, that at the Normal school while being trained as teachers their general education would be greatly extended.

The state board has already provided special training for mechanical teachers in vocational schools at the Fitchburg Normal school; training in business courses at the Salem Normal; in domestic science and household arts at the Framingham school. By providing a special school, which will serve as a training college for men teachers, the board of education will have completed the system of preparing all classes of teachers for their varied lines of work. We know of no other prospective step in educational progress that would be of such great benefit to the public schools of the state as a training college for men such as the state board has proposed.

THE REMOVAL OF PUTNAM

The removal of Supt. Putnam of the street department by the municipal council has caused considerable surprise throughout the city because those who followed the testimony had reached the conclusion that there was no evidence to sustain any charge that would justify the action taken.

In our opinion the commissioner of streets and highways should have absolute authority to hire and fire every one of his subordinates with or without cause so that he could be held strictly accountable for results; but our new charter places the responsibility on the municipal council as a whole and provides that certain officials, such for example as the superintendent of streets, shall not be removed except for cause and after a public hearing on the charges preferred.

The charges against Supt. Putnam were preferred by Commissioner Morse and none of them seemed to be very serious. But at the hearing the general impression was that the evidence was very weak and that the defense offered by Mr. Putnam proved that he was not guilty of the charges made and that he should, therefore, be exonerated. This conviction was strengthened by the fact that when the evidence for the government was all in, one of the commissioners offered a motion to dismiss the charges. That motion was defeated. Then came Mr. Putnam's defense, which so far as outsiders could judge simply demolished the main charges and fully vindicated his action so far as any charge of malfeasance or mismanagement was concerned.

Three members of the municipal council, namely, Mayor Murphy, Commissioner Morse and Brown, voted to remove Mr. Putnam and Commissioner Carmichael and Donnelly against his removal. Thus, Commissioner Morse who appeared in the role of prosecutor sat in judgment upon the case, which, while it may be his right, is not in accordance with strict judicial procedure. It was believed from the beginning that Commissioner Morse, to whom Mr. Putnam was persona non grata, would vote for removal; but it was believed also in view of the lack of damaging evidence against Mr. Putnam, that the other commissioners would vote for his retention and exoneration. Mayor Murphy said he voted for removal on the first and sixth charges which summarized are: For the good of the service, and because Commissioner Morse has not sufficient confidence in the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam. It is difficult to see how the accused official could defend himself against the personal opinion of any commissioner.

Public sentiment approves the action of Commissioners Carmichael and Donnelly in voting against removal on the ground that the charges so far as they amounted to anything were not proven. The responsibility rests with the three commissioners who voted Mr. Putnam out of office.

along the river bank to Bridge street so as to avoid the first street hill?

That is an improvement in which the county commission or the state highway commission should assist. But if neither body sees fit to construct this piece of road it should be done by the city as a necessary public improvement of great importance.

Essex county is constructing a piece of boulevard on the Lawrence end from Glen Forest into the city. Part of this strip is in Methuen; but the greater portion is in Lawrence. Yet the Essex county commission does not hesitate to do the work. Why then does not Middlesex county undertake to finish the boulevard on the Lowell end?

It was announced that Lowell would benefit greatly by having one of her citizens on the county commission. Now that Mr. Barlow is a member, the citizens of Lowell look to him to have something done about constructing this piece of road, which is less than a quarter of a mile in length.

The first street hill is a menace to safety which autists naturally avoid. The rest of the road is ideal and when the Lawrence end is finished the only bad section from New Hampshire to Newburyport will be in Lowell—between Bridge street and Llewellyn street.

We appeal to County Commissioner Barlow to have something done about this matter or else tell the reason why.

Is there any county ring in this? If so it is time the people hereabouts were apprised of the fact.

ELECTION OF POPE

Cardinals O'Connell and Gibbons have good reason to feel disappointed that they could not get to Rome in time to take part in the conclave, but it is not assumed that their participation would have changed the result. It is quite remarkable that the cardinal who was elected pope had never been suggested even as a remote possibility. He must have some very eminent qualities to recommend him and to bring him such distinction in spite of the fact that he has been but a few months a cardinal.

This, however, is the usual experience in the election of pope for the cardinal who stands out as eminently eligible in the eyes of the world, is seldom, if ever, elected. The promptness and harmony with which the new pope was chosen shows the imperishable character of the church. Popes may die or they may suffer martyrdom as many of them did in the past; but in every case a new pope will be chosen just as ready to make any sacrifice for the faith as any of those who have gone before.

The indications point to the fact

HOME RULE BILL

On September 3, next Wednesday, the home rule for Ireland bill will be taken up in the British parliament and will undoubtedly be placed upon the statute book without delay.

It was supposed that the declaration of war against Germany would have caused the opposition to withdraw gracefully but the speech of Mr. Balfour shows that he and Mr. Carson still intend to oppose the measure. But it will be futile for them to do so as the bill will become law with the other great liberal measures which are still pending. The government would make a costly blunder if it failed to take the present opportunity of conciliating the Irish people.

Monday will be Labor day, a day devoted to the interests and enjoyment of the laboring classes in particular. THE SPELLBINDER

Having returned from his vacation, Commissioner Brown was in joking mood early this week and to a reporter of the Courier-Citizen he gave a story about calling a meeting of the Edison cemetery lot-owners for the purpose of discussing what shall become of the perpetual care fund which at present is drawing three per cent. interest when it should be drawing at least four per cent.

"We will talk this thing over from start to finish," said Mr. Brown, "and I have a statement to make which will tell the whole course of events with reference to these trust funds. I shall be perfectly willing to discuss the matter and to answer all questions. Every lot owner will know the city took care of his interests when the money was withdrawn. The money is not lost and I will show that it is not. I shall ask the lot owners to go to the cemetery and look at the lot. If they want the funds invested in savings banks again, in city notes, or in any other way the law allows. And when they have taken a vote on the best way to proceed I shall do as the majority says."

I can't help expressing the hope that when he makes his statement to the lot owners he will be straightforward and tell just what the money is for and who the two members were who originated the scheme to take this money. But Commissioner Brown's statement that he will invest the money whatever way the lot owners vote that it shall be invested is as good as a promise. It was made by Mayor Murphy some few weeks ago and the city treasurer made no disposition of the trust funds until the council acted on the matter. Neither the mayor nor Commissioner Brown has any power relative to the perpetual care funds, and Commissioner Brown has no more authority to call a meeting of the lot-owners for the purpose of deciding what to do with the money, than has Tom Duckworth, or Sol Mayberry or Luke Telusko.

Section 6 of chapter 9 of the city ordinances, as published in 1894, and which has never since been amended under changes of charter, reads as follows:
The treasurer shall receive and have in custody all sums of money paid by persons for the perpetual care of lots in any of the city cemeteries, give the vouchers of the city treasurer, and moneys so received shall constitute a special fund to be known as the cemetery fund for the perpetual care of the city.

"The treasurer shall receive and have in custody all sums of money paid by persons for the perpetual care of lots in any of the city cemeteries, give the vouchers of the city treasurer, and moneys so received shall constitute a special fund to be known as the cemetery fund for the perpetual care of the city."

horse, it appears that our streets are much too narrow. To make travel on our public streets safe and comfortable the streets should be very much wider and there should be large, open spaces at convenient points for the temporary parking of autos. At present there is great inconvenience in this respect, for when an auto stops on the street it is in somebody's way and there is no, particular place in which it can get out of the way. The autos were unknown when the streets were laid out; but they should be provided for in all new streets.

Boston is keeping up its efforts to provide better fireproof construction in order to lessen the fire risks. The zigzag construction of Boston streets makes it more difficult to fight a bad fire in that city than almost anywhere else. But every other city as well as Boston has a duty to perform in lessening the fire hazards by promoting fireproof construction.

The removal of the seat of the French government from Paris to Bordeaux does not in any way indicate defeat or that the government is running away from its duty at Bordeaux. It will be in a better position to direct the war than it would be in Paris.

The United States hereafter will have a merchant marine sufficient to do its own business or at least a great portion thereof. President Wilson is encouraging this movement in every possible manner.

The reported landing of an army of 80,000 Russian soldiers in Scotland lets in some light upon the plan of campaign being worked out by the allies. It means a long struggle and an effort to isolate the German army in France.

The city treasurer, as will be seen by the foregoing, has full control over the perpetual care fund and may invest it as he sees fit regardless of what the municipal council, Commissioner Brown or the lot-owners may desire. He is under a bond of $50,000 (premium paid by the city), which protects the lot-owners in the event of misappropriation of the funds.

City Treasurer Stiles only a short time ago had a rather unpleasant experience as the result of doing the bidding of members of the city council in the past, for he was obliged to face a searching hearing that followed the discovery of the disappearance of the Huntington hall fund which was lost by the irresponsible city government of the past. The city treasurer will lay himself open again by listening to any high financial schemes that may be developed at a meeting of the lot-owners or in the office of the commissioner of finance.

The John Davis Fund
It is probable too, that henceforth the library trustees will get their financial advice from another source, especially since they have learned that two or three lawyers were ready to institute injunction proceedings to restrain the municipal council from taking any part of the John Davis fund, should such an attempt be made. The library trustees, of which Mayor Murphy is a member, voted in regular meeting to loan the money to the city and are on record as having done so.

Thieves Hunt the Germans
The burglars and thieves have it all over the German army for while the Germans are still miles away from the front the thieves have got right into the heart of the city of Lowell, despite the allied forces of Mayor Murphy and Supt. Welch and according to yesterday's papers added insult to injury by stealing from city hall itself. Some time ago they made bold enough to break into the public library and rifle it, they did not do so very long ago and they did, with characteristic success. Fortunately the theft occurred when none of the commissioners was around or we might have been startled by the announcement that one of the "Financial Five" had been kidnapped. The burglar who entered Dan Leary's dye house was caught, however, for which we are grateful to the Draught authorities.

Gorham Street Paying
At the opening of the year when money was appropriated for the paving of Gorham street, it memory serves us right, the estimate made at that time covered the cost of paving right up to the "railroad iron," as Commissioner Morse picturesquely described it, or in other words to the crossing on the hill at Manchester street. Now it is understood that the work will stop at the overhead railroad bridge, some little distance below the point originally contemplated. Thus quite a balance should be left over in the Gorham street paving appropriation and again the city pays interest on money borrowed but not used.

The County Ring
History tells us that the Middlesex county ring, which is about to be punctured, for all time, it is hoped, dates way back to 1855 and thus has a continuous existence of 58 years, for we read in Cowley's History of Lowell, the following:

"From 1855 dates the present Lowell jail, constructed according to a design by James H. Rand. The cost of this handsome edifice was about $150,000. This senseless manner in which the county commissioners wasted the people's money on this jail brought about the 'ring' which has so long controlled our county affairs, into disrepute. But the power of this 'ring' still remains unbroken. The edition of Cowley's history from which the foregoing was taken was published in 1885 and thus the historian was complaining of the 'ring' after 10 years' experience with it. But Judge Cowley, and nearly 50 years as well have passed on since then, but the 'ring' is still on the job and will continue thereon until the night and smash it. Having held the reins of Middlesex since 1885, it is pretty strongly entrenched, but then, even the Gordian knot was cut, and the first impression on the 'ring' was made last year when Commissioner Barlow of this city was elected.

Although a brother republican he was not a "ring" republican, and hence Messrs. Gould and Williams combined against him and he has been little more than a figure-head, although his presence has had the one advantage of being a sort of restraining influence, on this closed corporation. And now Commissioner Gould comes before the voters for re-election after many years' service and his defeat means the complete annihilation of the "ring." Major Barnes of Newton is the republican contender for the place, but it is extremely doubtful if Commissioner Gould can be defeated in the primaries. It will remain for a democratic candidate to put the finishing touches on the "county ring," and hence it is incumbent upon the democrats of Middlesex to consider the list of candidates carefully before making a choice. The democratic candidates, by the way are as numerous as one finds it impossible to recall all of them by name, off-hand. Two stand out prominently, however, Deputy Sheriff Walsh of South Framingham and Senator Charles McCarthy of Marlboro. The former in the event of his nomination will resign his position and give all his time to his campaign.

With Decided Emphasis
Local things appear to be getting exceedingly bold when they attempt highway robbery within the shadow of the home of Judge Enright, in Fletcher street. Some time ago when complaint was made about conditions prevailing at the north common at night, Supt. Welch is reported to have said that he didn't have enough money to permit him to police the common properly. There is a balance of $300 or more left over from the band concert appropriation which if transferred to the police department might pay the cost of a couple of supernumeraries as conditions improve. According to the Courier-Citizen, Supt. Welch stated with "decided emphasis," which probably means with a lot of vocal power, that the North common hold-up and several others mentioned in the Sun had not been reported to the police, but he did not state emphatically or otherwise that they didn't happen. Neither will the superintendent deny what Judge Enright and others have told him about conditions at the North common. If the superintendent hasn't money enough to give in his police department protection, the public will back him up in any attempt he may make to get a sufficient amount.

spotted lizard, the size of a minnow which he said came through the faucet in his house while his son was running the water preparatory to taking a drink. Mr. Touhey stated that upon shaving the lizard to Supt. Thomas of the water department and telling him that it was captured in Albion street, Mr. Thomas expressed great surprise that any such animal should be found in the water. He lived near Albion street, he said, but never had found anything of the kind in the city water. In fact he said the water at his house just then was very good. He questioned Mr. Touhey's judgment as to the species of the find, claiming that it was a little fish and not a lizard. Anyhow he expects that the general blow-out of the water mains tomorrow will remove all the foreign matter from the pipes, whether animal, vegetable or mineral.

SAYS AUSTRIANS LEFT 25,000 MEN AND 200 CANNON ON BATTLEFIELD

ROME, Sept. 5.—(Via Paris)—Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, has telegraphed the Russian ambassador here that the Austrian defeat near Lemberg was much greater than at first appeared. A whole Austrian division was practically annihilated. Among the killed were the general in chief and

WAR PICTURES SHOWING GERMAN TROOPS IN ACTION IN CAMPAIGN THROUGH BELGIUM

1. GERMAN ARTILLERYMEN PUSHING CANNON. 2. HORSES PULLING PONTOON ACROSS MEUSE RIVER.

These are interesting pictures of the German army taken in action. One of them shows artillerymen pushing a cannon up steep ground as aid to the horses. But making forced marches the Germans have been able to push the allies back so rapidly. The other picture shows horses climbing up a bank on the river Meuse in Belgium after swimming across with a pontoon. The troops made a hurried crossing below the bridge, which was in range of the Belgian artillery fire.

FOUR AUSTRIAN ARMY CORPS OF 200,000 MEN PUT OUT OF ACTION

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(10 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Petrograd in an account of the Russian operations under date of Thursday says:

Of the total Austrian forces in Galicia, probably 12 army corps, at least four army corps of 200,000 men have been practically put out of action anyhow for some time and 150 of their five hundred guns captured.

Russia is now able to detach considerable forces to Lublin and the prospect is that this will probably force the Austrian main army to fall back on the strong fortresses of Przemyśl and Cracow, whereby the Russians will recover the parts of Poland occupied through the fertile eastern part of Galicia up to the Carpathians.

It is reported that the Austrians are busy fortifying the hills near Gorka, 17 miles west of Lemberg. This is a very strong position with its front on four lakes extending 12 miles north and south and it is probable that it is here that the remains of the beaten Austrian army is concentrating.

IN POLICE COURT

Good Husband With Drink Habit Lectured by Court

A man who recently moved to this city with his wife and family of five children was charged with drunkenness. Previous to coming to Lowell the man was an ideal husband and father, but got to drinking hard on account of his inability to locate a good job here.

His wife told Judge Enright the whole story this morning. Liquor was the root of her husband's downfall, she said, for when he was sober he was good and kind to his family. Judge Enright gave the man a friendly lecture but warned him to keep out of bars in the future. He was released with a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction.

Withdrew Her Appeal

Mary Lesard, a woman who was sentenced to the women's reformatory at Sherborn earlier in the week, appeared today to withdraw her appeal from the sentence. William Gillis was fined $15 and Michael Dillon and Andrew Chertoff met with a $5 rebuke for drunkenness.

House of Correction

Michael Solomon was arrested by Capt. Brennan last night because of complaints made by three little girls who told of indecent actions on the part of Solomon. The latter was arraigned in police court today and was given a three months' term in the house of correction. He appealed.

MR. McWILLIAMS AND MISS WARDNER TOOK PRIZE IN DANCING CONTEST AT MANCHESTER

A beautiful prize, emblematic of the championship of the state, was awarded to Mr. McWilliams and Miss Wardner in their dancing contest with Mr. Murroughan and Miss Callahan of Cambridge at the pavilion on the shores of Lake Massabesic, Manchester, N. H., last evening. An admiring gathering of spectators watched Mr. McWilliams and his partner outstep their rivals for the dancing honors.

In watching the successful couple they saw a demonstration of dancing that was howling to look upon. The varying steps were glided through with a rhythmic grace that marks the premier danseuses of Paris while the intricate evolutions which adds so materially to the beauty of the modern style were carried through with a precision that stamped the winning couples as masters of their art.

CITY HALL NEWS

The $50,000 of the cemetery perpetual care fund will be invested in city or state bonds outside of Lowell and the commissioner of finance will get busy next week in conjunction with the city treasurer to invest the money.

This was the decision taken by the members of the municipal council at a conference held this morning in the city's office.

All members were present at the conference which was held at 11.30 o'clock and after several suggestions had been offered as to the best way of investing the money, which is now on deposit at the Lowell Trust Co., it was decided to invest the $50,000 in city or state bonds and the commissioner of finance was instructed to go to Boston Tuesday and find out just how the market stands. This means that the meeting of the lot owners which was scheduled to be held Thursday at city hall will be called off.

Band Stand

Commissioner Donnelly of the public building department informed the writer this morning that he believes the band stand now being constructed on the South common will be completed in a couple of weeks. Wilson & Co.'s per cent. off varied from 6 to 7, while that of Cawley was 7.1-2 straight.

TAX FOR WAR REVENUE URGED—INCREASED TAX ON BEER IS ASSURED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Taxing moving picture films for war revenue was urged before the ways and means committee today at deliberations on the measure to raise $100,000,000 in response to a message from President Wilson. One member of a committee showed testimony of film manufacturers telling of profit aggregating 120 per cent. A discussion for a tax on railroad tickets and gasoline developed. Scores of taxable items were discussed. That cigars and tobacco would not be taxed seemed assured in the opinion of a majority of the members of the committee. An increased tax on beer is assured. Domestic wines probably will not escape. Some members approve a tax on commercial instruments.

CHEERFUL BUT ANGRY

Allied Forces Cannot Understand Necessity of Continued Retreat—Say "The More Germans You Kill the More There are of Them; but if We Ever Get Them in the Open It's Good Night"

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Co. at Ferrara, near Paris, sends the following:

"Our men, though cheerful are angry at the continued retreat. They don't understand the necessity for it. They are all amazed at the unending numbers of the Germans. They say: 'The more you kill of them the more there are of them; but if we ever get them in the open it's good night.'"

"The fighting along the line of the German advance has been incessant and desperate. I sold a horse the other day to an officer of dragoons. I showed him the only horse I had for sale with the warning that the animal was not in the best condition."

Four Horses Shot Under Him

"I sang it," said the officer, "he will last four days and that's about my average since the war began." He already had had four horses shot under him.

"The war is very hard on the horses and the condition of some of the poor beasts which I've seen passing southward toward Paris would better not be described. Nevertheless, the army is still fit in every sense of the word and its transport is intact and fills the road with a column of motor vans nearly six miles long."

Country Is Devastated

"Our soldiers are all right, but the people who we pity are the thousands of fugitives who have been swept up and blown away by the marching armies like chaff before the wind. The country through which the armies have passed is devastated. Dynamited bridges and tunnels mark the retreat of the allies and blazing villages mark advance of the Germans. The harvest is now almost in and the French would do well to destroy the crops themselves rather than leave it to the enemy."

"The weather has been splendid, blaring hot days and perfect moonlight nights—ideal holiday weather. These nights of full moon have not been wasted by the Germans who move forward by night as well as by day. Many a kilometer has been gained on the road to Paris under the harvest moon, but for which the men would have been sleeping."

Germans Are in Great Hurry

"That the Germans are in a great hurry is evident to all eyes, regardless of risks and sacrifices, crushing

ing down resistance by the weight of numbers and carried forward by the hope of striking a mortal blow at the western foe before the eastern enemy at the gates of Berlin. The speed at which they advance is the cause of constant wonder to people who know the country and the distance."

"At a village which was full of troops a few days ago no attempt was made to halt them. The allies' troops fell back and save for some minor rear guard actions, the Germans seemingly marched from La Fere to the lines of Paris unopposed."

Fighting at Clermont

"At Beauvais, where I stopped this morning the town and countryside were wrapped in infinite peace. Two stray Uhlans had been captured there a few days ago, but otherwise no enemy had put in an appearance. The trains now run no nearer than Gournay-En-Bray, 17 miles west by north of Beauvais, but the road between the two places and thence to Paris and Clermont is clear, although the enemy is so near. There was fighting at Clermont two days ago and the sound of cannonading has been heard occasionally at Beauvais. The strong French force which has been for a long time posted along the river left that place Tuesday."

Officer Shot as Traitor

"The war is already giving birth to numerous stories of unknown origin, which are spreading like wildfire. One of the current stories is that the French army carry scolded turpentine powder which is supposed to asphyxiate Germans by battalions. Another is the tale of the alleged treachery of an officer of (—) It is supposed to have led to his superior's death. The presence of German in Alsace, where they were summarily shot by his own order as a traitor. Usually this officer is called a general and sometimes the story-teller gives him a name. At other times the story goes with the name of a famous French military aviator."

PENNANT DAY

'13 Token of Supremacy to be Raised at Spalding Park Monday

The management of the local baseball club is making great preparations for the raising of the 1913 pennant at Spalding park next Monday afternoon and from all appearances the fans are also looking forward to the event with anticipation. For the time being the Lowell club of this season will be forgotten while the deeds of the team which won the last year's flag will be refreshed in memory.

Without doubt the Lowell team of last season was the greatest aggregation of ball players gotten together in this league in many years. It was a wonderful organization of diamond stars and Monday afternoon will be dedicated to their memory while last year's pennant flutters in the breeze on its way up the tall flagstaff.

Even Mayor Murphy has become imbued with the spirit. Last night his honor sent down by Secretary John Cull the following article for the newspaper:

"In view of the great success attained by the Lowell Baseball club during the season of 1913, winning the championship of the New England League and the post-season series from the Hartford club of the Eastern association, I deem it proper at this time to state that it is the duty of every lover of the national game to attend the pennant raising at Spalding park on Labor day and show by their presence their approval of this wholesome and clean sport."

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

The Lowell players as well as the fans are having a great time with the new rule. Donovan's hair is so long that it nearly hangs to his shoulders. After the game yesterday one of the players asked Donovan why he didn't have his hair cut. "Get my hair cut the way I'm going now?" asked the youngster. "Well I should say not." Donovan certainly has all of the dopests double crossed for further orders.

The results of the Braves-Giants game will be announced by innings at Spalding park Monday afternoon. The interest in this city is so intense over the National league race that the management decided to provide this service.

Although predictions have been made that Tom Halpin will set up a new record at Rockingham park this afternoon in the 440 yards straightaway such an event would prove a big surprise to those who have been on the track. The A. A. class will not and the same solid surface beneath his spikes that is rendered by a seasoned cinder path. Halpin should win the quarter, however, in slightly fast time.

If the Red Sox could do as well against the other clubs in the American league circuit as they do when opposed to the Athletics there would be nothing to the race. In the last dozen Red Sox-Athletics contests Carlin's men have won nine.

Frank Diette is right on the job at Kittredge's alley these days and his summer's retirement at the Lakeview ally does not seem to have affected his precision in the least. Whether it's an alley contest or one with the cue Frank is just as handy as in days of yore.

Jimmy Ring was certainly in fine form. The bingles that Manchester did succeed in connecting with did not avail them much for on every occasion James proceeded to tighten up and the following batters had hard work to see the ball. Ring looks better right now than at any time this season.

Are the Braves' pitchers cracking? George Tyler was not effective day before yesterday and Bill James was very lucky to pull off his game yesterday. The tremendous strain to which Tyler, James and Rudolph have been subjected during the past two months is beginning to tell. If these three pitchers should lose their cunning the Boston Nationals will be fortunate to finish in second place. And if they do stand up under the steady fire it will be the most remarkable performance ever.

Marty O'Toole came through with a win in his initial mound appearance for the Giants. The 4-3 score does not tell the tale for O'Toole kept Brooklyn's hits well scattered and Robertson's miff was largely responsible for two of the Supers' runs. It was a good start for the ex-Pirate.

The Lowell club looked O. K. out there yesterday. Although the tally sheet showed three errors, all of them were excusable. The club played a more organized game than for some time past.

McCloskey looks even better as time passes. His fiddling yesterday was spectacular on several occasions. Mac makes easy work of many hard chances and the majority of the spectators do not appreciate how really difficult they are.

Fahy is another stellar performer while Deane and Kelly are doing their share toward making a whirlwind for the season. The entire Lowell halfed is wound up to an effective degree just now and if they continue to go along at this rate first division honors may yet be attained.

ARRIVED FROM IRELAND

Mr. Thade Quinn Tells of Conditions There—Carson Severely Snubbed by Lord Kitchener

Mr. Thade A. Quinn, brother of Joseph P. Quinn, of The Sun editorial staff, arrived in Lowell from Ireland yesterday, accompanied by a younger brother, Michael. Mr. Quinn left Lowell for a visit to Ireland and returned on the White Star Line steamer Arabella which landed in Boston Thursday.

Mr. Quinn relates some very interesting incidents of the voyage, the chief feature of which was the terror among the passengers lest the steamer should be attacked by a German warship. In the daytime the passengers kept a continuous watch out for any vessel on the horizon and as soon as a sail or a mast or a coil of smoke appeared rising from a vessel in the distance, the word went around the decks that a warship was in sight. This was a signal for everybody to rush to the upper deck in order to get a good look at the vessel in the offing and to ascertain whether it was really a warship or a timid stealthy passenger vessel like the Arabella.

In spite of the eager outlook by the passengers no cruiser or warship of any of the belligerent powers was sighted. Neither was the steamer escorted by British cruisers as was the case with several other steamers which started a few days earlier.

Mr. Quinn had considerable criticism of the treatment accorded the passengers by the officers of the steamer. He said that hundreds of them were crowded into the steerage and that certain inferior officers offered sleeping berths to passengers on payment of certain amounts but although in a considerable number of cases the money was paid the promised berths were not provided. A protest was lodged with the purser who compelled the officers who had collected money in this way to return it to the passengers.

All Support Redmond
Speaking of conditions in Ireland, Mr. Quinn states that the people are practically unanimous in support of Mr. Redmond's policy on the home rule question and are confident that the bill will become law in the near future. There is widespread interest in the volunteer movement and the Nationalist Volunteers are prepared to defend Ireland against possible invasion and third reserves have started in Ireland before Mr. Quinn's departure and a large number of such men had left for France. He does not believe that the Nationalist Volunteers will go to the front as a body although many of them may enlist individually.

Carson, snubbed by Kitchener
Mr. Quinn states that Sir Edward Carson has lost whatever influence he had even with the Unionists, on account of his causing so much trouble for the government and the country by threatening revolution in Ireland. It is stated that after Lord Kitchener was placed at the head of the war department, Sir Edward paid him a visit and offered to have a majority of the Ulster Volunteers go to the front. It is reported that he received a very severe snub from Lord Kitchener who expressed his surprise that men who claimed a monopoly of patriotism and loyalty in Ireland should demand a Quid Pro Quo when called upon to serve their king.

TURKEY MOBILIZES TROOPS TO THROW HER PART OF WORLD IN WAR TURMOIL

TURKISH CAVALRY

Turkey, which has mobilized her troops on a war basis, has an army of 400,000 in time of peace, with 300,000 reserves. She has 2,000,000 unorganized men available for war duty if needed. It is reported that Turkey has now a better army than when she was defeated in the Balkan war and driven almost entirely out of Europe. It was expected that she would throw her lot with Germany and Austria in the present war.

ODD FELLOWS' DAY AT LYNN

Grand Master James Bennett Given a Big Reception

Many Prominent Odd Fellows in the Receiving Line

(Special to The Sun)

LYNN, Sept. 5.—All Lynn is in gala attire today for the celebration of Odd Fellows day, or to be more explicit, "Bennett and Lynn" day. Odd Fellows from Lynn, Lowell, Boston and other New England cities and towns were in attendance at the big reception tendered Grand Master James Bennett, a Lynn man who has attained the highest honors within the gift of his fellow lodge members in the state. The Lowell lodges were represented by Capt. H. B. Kittredge, Kenneth M. Pelton and Herbert Riddick. The reception was held early in the evening shortly after the parade was over and immediately preceding the banquet. Mr. Bennett was congratulated on all sides by his friends and fellow members for having been so highly honored by the largest fraternal body in the state. In the receiving line Grand Master Bennett was the grand sire of the sovereign grand lodge, Charles A. Keller of Texas and wife; J. Herbert Shuppan of Winthrop who became deputy grand master; Mr. Bennett's promotion; Grand Secretary George H. Fuller of Boston; Grand Instructor William Webber of Boston; General W. Lewis of Brockton, major arches Miltank; Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment Bert J. Wilmore; Mrs. Ellen M. Burt of Worcester, president of the State Rebekah assembly; Mayor George H. Newell and the members of the municipal council, and many guests from abroad accompanied by their wives. The local reception committee of which Milton H. Thrasher was chairman had charge of the arrangements for the reception to Mr. Bennett as well as for the parade and banquet. Mr. Thrasher is perhaps as well known as any Odd Fellow in the state, for his work in the order as noble grand of East Lynn lodge, which in 1912 elicited the admiration of the members of the order all over the state and won him a place as one of the leading members of the fraternity. Associated with Mr. Thrasher were other prominent members of the order, all of whom have done their part to boost the organization, and who were directly responsible for the glowing reception accorded to Mr. Thrasher and his associates. The grand associates of Mr. Thrasher are: Wilson H. Thorne, Lewis H. Chipman, G. Fred Gay, Benjamin E. Thompson, George H. Jackson, Charles A. Nickerson, Willard L. Coggin, Clarence E. Pham, Donald E. Staples, H. Dwight Hulse, A. B. Seale and Charles H. Annis. The ladies of the reception committee are the noble grand of the order, Rebekah lodges: Mrs. May B. Hammond, Mrs. Emma F. Swain, Mrs. Esther K. Makepeace, Mrs. Georgia Iverson, Mrs. E. Mabel Youland, Mrs. Alice B. Hickey and Mrs. Alice M. Mink.

The parade preceding the reception was witnessed by large crowds all along the route and the different lodges were applauded on every hand. The parade formed on Washington street and marched over the following route: Broad, Lewis, Lafayette park, Fayette, Essex, Lincoln, Union, Central square, North Common, Market square to Federal, countermarch South Common to City Hall square where it was dismissed.

WILL WEAR BADGES

MEMBERS OF PARK BOARD WILL DECORATE THEMSELVES—NEW MEMBER AT MEETING

The park board met last night and transacted routine business. To new commissioner, Clarence M. Weed, who was appointed last June was present and he was initiated into the work of the department.

The meeting was called at 7.30 o'clock and at the opening of the business it was voted at the suggestion of Mr. Weed that the chairman and secretary draw up a set of rules to govern the board. At the suggestion of Mr. Rountree it was voted to have badges made for the members of the board and those will be ready in a few days.

Supt. Kernan, who recently attended a convention of park superintendents in New York, made a report and said he has seen many things but to his belief the trip was useless for the city does not give enough money to make the needed changes and improvements. Considerable talk about the barn of the department in Lenox street took place and to the effect of the argument it was brought out that the moth extermination department is using more than half of the stable and it was suggested by Mr. Weed to divide the barn in two sections with a partition. It was finally decided to take the matter up with Commissioner Donnelly.

Mr. Rountree wanted to have the moth department paraphernalia removed from the park department office, but he was told to go slow about this for the stenographer of the department was receiving half her pay from the moth extermination department.

The chairman of the playground committee, Mr. Rountree made a report of the closing season and said everything had been very satisfactory to the committee. He moved that a vote of thanks be extended the supervisors for their work and at the suggestion of Mr. Carr the vote was extended to all who helped in the different lodges were applauded on every hand. The parade formed on Washington street and marched over the following route: Broad, Lewis, Lafayette park, Fayette, Essex, Lincoln, Union, Central square, North Common, Market square to Federal, countermarch South Common to City Hall square where it was dismissed.

Prior to the closing of the meeting Mr. Carr spoke of his campaign for funds for the playground and said it had been a failure. He said there is a sum of $105 deposited at the bank and he asked the members of the board for their signatures in order to be able to draw out the money to pay the bills. The members agreed to give him their signatures but as individuals and not as members of the board. Adjourned.

Thomas F. McKay was elected chairman of the board on motion of Commissioner Weed, who qualified yesterday afternoon at the city clerk's office. Mr. Weed had been appointed to the board last June, but did not qualify until yesterday.

Mrs. L. R. Fellows and granddaughter, Mrs. Pearl Houghton of 30 Coral street, and Mrs. George H. Fellows and daughter, Miss Gertrude Fellows, of 16 Grove street are spending a week at Ocean Park, N. H.

GERMANS ARE ADVANCING

Outpost Forts of Paris Now in Hands of Germans—Drive Allies Back Behind Conde

LONDON, Sept. 5.—11.55 p. m.—What has been described as the arrow-head of the German army, which has been slowly forcing its way through the Anglo-French armies toward Paris, has made further progress, according to the German official report issued today, and has now driven the allies back behind Conde.

LaFere has been captured without resistance, says the German statement and with the exception of (name deleted) which is being attacked and Maubeuge, which the Germans have masked, the outpost forts are now in the hands of the invaders. Cavalry raids, too, are being made in the direction of the Paris fortifications which will, if the German accounts are correct, be the next stop of the allies' armies.

This news was a great disappointment here, where earlier official reports from Paris to the effect that the Germans had suffered a check near Verdun led to the hope that the advance had at last been stopped.

In Lorraine and the Vosges region, where the German forces were weakened to strengthen their right flank, the French appear to be holding their own, if not making an advance.

The allies take some consolation from the fact that the Russian defeat of the Austrians around Lemberg, which town has fallen into the hands of the Russians with its immense stock of war material and provisions apparently is complete. The possession of Lemberg gives the Russians a base from which they can work and from which they can attack in the rear the Austrian army which has been invading Russian territory.

In a battle lasting almost a fortnight the Austrians have suffered terrible losses, 12,000 having fallen in one place alone, while the Russians claim to have taken thousands of prisoners and 200 guns. The Austrian retreat, it appears from official advices, has been turned into a rout.

Belgium, which saw so many battles during the early stages of the war, is again the scene of fighting. German advices indicate that the Germans are completing a half circle around Antwerp.

Information has reached England that seven of the German destroyers which the British fleet engaged off Heligoland eight and which escaped in a damaged condition when three cruisers and two destroyers were sunk have reached Kiel. Others were so badly injured that they went down before reaching refuge.

Besides the Prince of Wales fund for the relief of the dependants of soldiers other funds are being raised for those who have been thrown out of work through the war. Queen Mary

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

NEW YORK AVIATOR FELL 1000 FEET WHEN PLANE WENT BROKE

BELLEFONTE, Penn., Sept. 5.—W. Leonard Donney, a New York aviator, had a miraculous escape from death when he gave an exhibition flight at the Center county fair yesterday.

When more than 100 feet in the air the wires on the control elevator of his aeroplane broke and the machine plunged to the earth, turning over twice in the descent.

When 100 feet from the ground the air-craft caught fire and Donney jumped, landing in a cornfield. He was taken to a hospital, where it is believed he will recover.
